We cannot but perceive, first, the wholesomeness and right feeling which pervade these lines. There is not a poem, no matter how short, but carries its lesson. . . . The thousands of readers who read Will Carleton's verses until they are learned by heart may be congratulated upon the appearance of this book, which contains so many kindly thoughts, so much sympathy for the afflicted, and so much besides to entertain and instruct. The illustrations are exceedingly good.—Brooklyn Union.

BEN-HUR: A TALE OF THE CHRIST. 16mo, Cloth, $1 50; Half Leather, $2 00; Half Calf, $3 00; Three-quarter Russia, $2 50; Three-quarter Crushed Levant, $4 00; Full Leather, $3 50.

A book of which you may expect great things, and not be disappointed. — Christian Secretary, Hartford, Conn.

In no sense is Christ the hero of the work. Sacred things are touched reverently and with much good judgment, usually in the very language of the evangelists.—Methodist Advocate, Atlanta, Ga.

One of the most remarkable and delightful books, not merely of our own times and land, but of all times and all lands. It is a work of fiction—the creation of a poet's genius.—Indianapolis Journal.

Though in the form of prose, it is in fact a poem. It is a book that will command the interest and admiration of Christian and infidel alike, whether his tastes bend towards romance, poetry, or history.—N. Y. Truth.

THE BOYHOOD OF CHRIST. With 14 Full-page Engravings on Plate Paper. Small 4to, Full Leather, Gilt Edges, $3 50.

The basis of this book is the story told in the New Testament, but the author has wrought into this fabric many of the pleasing traditions preserved in the writings of the Christian Fathers and in the fictitious Gospels concerning the life of Christ and the Virgin Mary. Thus a charming and instructive narrative is made up, in which, however, the story-teller is careful to point out what is true and what is mere legend. Fourteen beautiful full-page illustrations on plate paper adorn the volume, and it is artistically bound.

PEBBLES FROM THE PATH OF A PILGRIM; Personal Reminiscences of Answers to Prayers and Providential Guidance and Interposition, and Mission Work among the Freedmen of the South after the close of the Civil War. By Mrs. H. L. HASTINGS. Sixth Thousand. Crown 8vo. cloth, 3 9 pp. 85 cts.

"The volume before us is made up of a series of episodes of personal experience of a girl left at a tender age fatherless, and who, under the care of a guardian, is cruelly treated. Then the chapters run on under suggestive titles, until the heroine engages in 'Southern Mission Work' in South Carolina and elsewhere. The book ends with an account of a mission to the far Northwest. The style is plain and straight-forward, with no effort at rhetorical display."—Methodist Protestant. (Baltimore.)

The book under notice is of remarkable interest, and certainly cannot fail of strengthening a faith in an overruling Providence."—Boston Home Journal.

"This is a book which we should think any boy or girl would be glad to get and read. The pieces are mostly prose; all are brief; all teach, generally by anecdote, and in a pleasant way, the simpler lessons of morality and religion. The author has evidently striven to produce a book that will be of real service in influencing the young to pursue those courses that lead to a noble manhood and womanhood. It is a good book for the Sunday-school library and the home circle."—Morning Star. (Dover, N. H.)

The Tornado. 12°. $1.

No one has given a more careful study to these destructive storms than has Professor Hazen, and his book will prove a decided contribution to the world's knowledge. In this book will be found a careful discussion of the important question of Tornado Insurance now attracting so much attention. Hundreds of dollars may be saved by people who are thinking of such insurance by following the principles here made plain.

MORGAN, APPLETON.

The Winnipeg Country; or, Roughing it with an Eclipse Party. 12°. $1.50.

This book presents a picture of our desolate North-western territory twenty-five years ago, in contrast with its civilized aspect to-day.

THOMAS, CYRUS.

The Cherokees in Pre-Columbian Times. 12°. $1.

Dr. Thomas in this work reverses the usual method of dealing with prehistoric subjects; that is to say, he commences with the earliest recorded history of the tribe as a basis, and traces the chain back step by step by the light of the mounds, traditions, and other evidence, as far as possible. He has already presented to the public some reasons for believing the Cherokees were mound-builders, but additional evidence bearing on the subject has been obtained. A more careful study of the Delaware tradition respecting the Tallegwi satisfies him that we have in the Bark Record (Walam Olum) itself proof that they were Cherokees. He thinks the mounds enable us to trace back their line of migration even beyond their residence in Ohio to the western bank of the Mississippi. The object is therefore threefold: 1. An illustration of the reverse method of dealing with prehistoric subjects; 2. Incidental proof that some of the Indians were mound-builders; 3. A study of a single tribe in the light of the mound testimony. This work is an important contribution to the literature of the Columbian discovery which will doubtless appear during the coming two years.

Journal of Microscopy and Natural Science. Ed. by ALFRED ALLEN and WILLIAM SPIERS. q. 8°. $1.75.

Consists of articles by scientists in every department of microscopy, botany, geology, zoölogy, and natural science; half an hour at the microscope with Mr. Tuffen West; and selected notes from the note-books of the Postal Microscopical Society. Books relating to literature and science are carefully reviewed. A new series was commenced in January, 1888.

Science. Ed. by N. D. C. HODGES. 4°. $3.50.

A weekly journal devoted to recording the progress of science and the arts. Among recent contributors may be named: A. Melville Bell, Joseph Jastrow, J. H. Raymond, M.D., G. Stanley Hall, R. H. Thurston, H. T. Cresson, H. B. Bashore, H. E. Stockbridge, Lieut. Bradley A. Fiske, John T. Stoddard, Charles S. Minot, Jacques W. Redway, Nelson W. Perry, T. Berry Smith, Robert H. Lamborn, Gardiner G. Hubbard, Edgar Richards, H. A. Hazen, Cyrus Thomas, T. C. Chamberlin, A. E. Dolbear, W. M. Davis, L. W. Ledyard, John C. Branner, A. T. Drummond, G. Brown Goode, Burt G. fore him; I shewed before him my trouble.

3 [b]When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou knewest my path. [c]In the way wherein I walked have they privily laid a snare for me.

4 [d]‖ I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but [e]there was no man that would know me: refuge †failed me; †no man cared for my soul.

5 I cried unto thee, O LORD: I said, [f]Thou art my refuge and [g]my portion [h]in the land of the living.

6 Attend unto my cry; for I am [i]brought very low: deliver me from my persecutors; for they are stronger than I.

7 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise thy name: [k]the righteous shall compass me about; [l]for thou shalt deal bountifully with me.

To the Trade.

Having been engaged in the manufacture and the sale of Family and Pulpit Bibles for nearly fifty years, we have become conversant with the wants of the Trade, as well as with those of the Bible-reading community throughout the entire country, and have acquired much practical experience in the printing and binding of every description of the various editions of the Holy Bible.

We pride ourselves upon having the largest and best-appointed printing-office and bindery for the manufacture of Family Bibles that it is possible to have, including new buildings and new and improved machinery.

Our Bibles are more beautifully printed, and are more strongly and durably bound, than any others that are produced in this country. Particular care is taken to have them as perfect as possible in all respects, especially to have them firmly and securely sewed. All of our Bibles are laced in with strong twine; they are, in fact, "cut in boards," and not glued in the covers, as are cloth books, in which flimsy manner many other Family Bibles are bound.

We are constantly adding new styles and designs for covers, and during the past three years we have invested more than $7500 in NEW BIBLE DIES, while others have been reproducing our old styles. We are now discarding those which have been appropriated and copied.

We herein show Specimen Pages of the largest variety and the most beautiful sets of Electrotype Bible Plates that have ever been produced, an assortment consisting of Thirteen Complete Sets. This enables us to print our various editions of the Bible in type of different sizes. We hold in reserve three Entirely New Sets of Bible Plates which we never print from, and we are thus enabled to reproduce new plates at short notice, and to keep our Bible pages continually fresh and unworn. This is the largest assortment of Quarto Bible plates owned by any other publishing-house in the world, and three times the number owned by any other house in this country.

We have recently purchased from Messrs. J. B. Lippincott & Co. their Imperial Pulpit Bible, Great Primer Type. This is the handsomest and the most expensive set of Bible plates ever made in this country, and has always been held as the most costly Bible published. Only a limited number of impressions have been taken from these plates, so that they are practically new and entirely unworn, and they are equal to anything ever produced in London.

Our Paper is made especially for our use by the best makers, and will be found superior this year to that which we have heretofore used. We shall use the best paper possible, considering the low price of our Bibles.

The experience of many years has demonstrated to us that in the end the best is invariably the cheapest, and it is our intention, therefore, to produce nothing but well-finished, attractive goods. Even our lowest-priced lines are kept up to a high, salable standard.

In conclusion, we express our gratitude for the liberal patronage with which we have been favored by the Trade throughout the country, and reassure our customers of our determination to merit its continuance by offering the best, the most attractive, the most reliable and the cheapest Family Bibles that can be made consistent with good workmanship and material.

Very respectfully. A. J. HOLMAN & CO.

Crabb's New Handy Cyclopædia; or, an Explanation of Words and Things Connected With the Arts and Sciences.—By George Crabb, A. M., author of "English Synonyms," "Technological Dictionary," and "Historical Dictionary." Illustrated with numerous engravings.

This is a valuable book, supplying in a handy volume, a clear description (often with an illustrative picture) of almost any and every thing or object that any person wants to know. It is alphabetically arranged, and for people who have not the means to purchase great, many-volumed Encyclopædias, and yet wish to be thoroughly posted, this is just the work for them.

Crabb's Handy Cyclopædia is a Portable Library of Reference, equally valuable and useful to every person that wants to lessen his ignorance and increase his knowledge. Have Crabb's Cyclopædia within reach, and you will never be at a loss to answer any question upon even the most opposite of themes or topics.

Chamber's Information for the Million.—A Book of Facts and Useful Knowledge. This valuable volume is the most exhaustive, yet the most compact, compendium of general knowledge ever issued. The information is given in plain, intelligible language, and is adapted to the use of the ordinary reader. The information also has a practical use. In this age of activity and competition, the author recognizes the fact that all knowledge should have a decidedly practical bearing. Much of the information in this volume can, therefore, be used by many in the practical pursuits of every-day life, and be made a source of pecuniary profit. 12mo., cloth.....1.25

Napoleon and His Marshals.—By J. T. Headley. We have here grouped together the distinguished men Bonaparte gathered around him, and with whom he obtained and held the vast power he wielded. The mighty genius of Napoleon so overshadowed all those beneath him that they have not received their due praise, nor their proper place in history. The Marshals who led his armies, and governed his conquered provinces, were men of native strength and genius; and as they stand grouped around their mighty chief, they form a circle of military leaders, the like of whom the world had never before at any one time beheld. To show what these men were, unfold their true characters and illustrate their great qualities, is the purpose of this book. As a writer, Mr. Headley is one of the most graphic, brilliant, eloquent, and strikingly impressive we have ever known. His descriptions of battle scenes have never been surpassed in interest or dramatic power. 2 vols., 12mo, cloth, illustrated.....1.50

To the thousands who have visited Washington it will be a treasured souvenir. To the young it will convey a knowledge of our government nowhere else to be found. To all classes it will be a book which will be pleasantly and profitably taken up for a few hours' reading, or for a more thorough perusal. It is illustrated, printed, and bound in the highest style of book-making. It treats of the past history and of every phase of present life in Washington. It describes the Departments, the duties of government officials, and the manner of transacting public business. It contains information which produces patriotism, pride in our national government, and a love of country in old and young. As an illustrated book it will compare with anything ever published. Rome, History of.—From the period prior to the first building of the City until its final overthrow by the Invasion of the Ostrogoths. To which is added a Chronological Table of Contemporary History. By Thomas Keightley. No secular history is so important as that of the Eternal City, whose heroes "still rule us from their urns." This great author, while discarding mere fables, does not strip history of all those alluring charms, which, like ivy around ruined columns, add to the beauty without altering the form. Every fact is here given truthfully. Æneas and his Trojans ; Romulus and Remus ; the Tarquins, including the deeds of "the Superb ;" and the fate of the ravisher of Lucretia, and the death of the first Brutus ; the origin of the Roman Constitution, with judicious observations. The conquest of Italy is detailed. The Dictatorship and the Tribunal ; the land and the Agrarian division statutes ; the Volscian War, the action of Coriolanus, Cincinnatus, and the Decemvirs. Invasion of the Gauls ; taking of Rome ; the great wars in Italy ; the invasion of Pyrrhus, forming of the Roman Legion, and so on—giving full accounts of the wars with Hannibal, Jugurtha and Mithridates. The conspiracy of Cataline ; the assassination of Cæsar. The reigns and battles of the great Emperors ; the terrible invasions of the Huns, and Goths ; and the total overthrow of the City and Empire by the Ostrogoths. 12mo. Two volumes in one. Russia, the Pictorial Description and Standard History of.—From its foundation, including part of the reign of Alexander III. Embellished with several hundred engravings of the Inhabitants, Cities, Scenery, and the natural productions. By Robert Sears. Not only is Russia the largest country of the world, but its history is the most intensely interesting. While on one long frontier it trenches on regions of eternal winter, on another it verges upon seas and lands of almost eternal summer, where the citron, the fig and the olive hang in lush luxuriance. The peoples of this mighty Czardom are more varied than those of any other nation,—including almost every phase of humanity, from the Kalmuck to the Circassian. Russia has seen more sanguinary wars, more mysterious assassinations, more cruel Czars and sensual Czarinas than all the world beside. The author of this work writes truthful history, not plausible fable; and while he exposes the crimes of a Paul and a Catherine, he does not forget the rugged virtues of a Peter or the humane acts of an Alexander. This book is the truthful though amazing panorama of a wondrous history. Large 8vo, cloth, gilt.....2.50

MARRIAGE-CERTIFICATES.

These certificates are not chromos or cheap productions made by printing the mere outlines of data for marriage, on ordinary letter paper (as are many styles now in the market), but they are GENUINE LITHOGRAPHS, with data for marriage and unique designs suggestive of wedlock, so artistically wrought out on fine card-board, and superbly finished, as to constitute works of art that will be an ornament to any home, and the most acceptable gift from the officiating clergyman to his wedded patrons as a fitting memorial of their marriage-vows.

All of These Certificates Have Been Designed, Engraved and Lithographed Since October 1, 1887.

I. COLORED; finished in Black and Gold and Colors.

No. 1. Landscape Price, 40 cents. Size, 14x18 inches. Two card receptacles for photographs. Lithographed on fine card-board, in black and gilt and finished in colors This is a magnificent work of art. In the center, and reaching from the bottom toward the top of the certificate, is a perfect and full grown tree—the sturdy and majestic oak—to which is clinging the Virginia Creeper (or vitus quinqefolia); at its base the open Bible, resting on a rock; on either side in the branches, scrolls for name of bride and groom; in the tree are the words in gilt, "WERE UNITED;" just above are two picture-ovals; while near the top is a beautiful lake, with a boat in which the wedded pair are going from the church to their home on the opposite side. It is artistically finished in colors which bring out the beauty of the faded leaf so like nature that you may here gaze on the glories of autumnal foliage all the year.

No. 2. Peerless. Price, 40 cents. Size, 14x18 inches. Two card receptacles for photographs. Lithographed on fine card-board, in black and gilt, and in colors. We know of no more fitting name for this certificate than a term applied to it by several clergymen, in their commendation of it, viz., "PEERLESS." We do not hesitate to say that this is positively the finest marriage-certificate lithographed in the nineteenth century.

There is nothing clumsy, nothing commonplace, nothing strained; but the beauty, sublimity, and dignity of art is displayed in each of its parts, as well as in the grand whole, in an eminent degree.

No. 3. Dove. Price, 40 cents. Size, 14x18 inches. Lithographed on fine card-board, and most exquisitely finished in colors,

This certificate is elegantly engraved and embossed; and has that rare combination of artistic floral designs and colors which renders it the equal of any certificate produced by the famous lithographers of Germany.

Our artist "struck twelve" on number 2, but, even at the risk of his being called a clock out of order, we must say he "has struck twelve" twice in succession.

II. PLAIN; finished in Black and Gold.

No. 4. Price, 30 cents. Exactly the same as number 1, except it is not finished in colors.

No. 5. Price, 30 cents. Exactly the same as number 2, except that it is not finished in colors.

No. 6. Price, 35 cents. Similar to number 3, except it is not finished in colors, and has a tinted background.

III. Marriage-Certificates. Without Receptacles for Photographs.

No. 7. Price, 10 cents. Size, 11x14 inches. Lithographed on fine card-board, in plain black finish, without gilt or colors, having ring and open Bible, and tasty border.

No. 8. Price, 15 cents. Size. 11x14 inches. Exactly like number 7, in every respect, except it has, in addition, a tinted background.

If a plain inexpensive certificate, without receptacles for photographs is wanted, Nos. 7 and 8 will be satisfactory.

No. 9. Rose. Price, 20 cents. Size, 11x14 inches, Lithographed on fine card-board, in black, and gilt and colors. By those who prefer a certificate without receptacles for photographs, and are partial to the "Moss Rose" and flowers in profusion, this pattern will be admired.

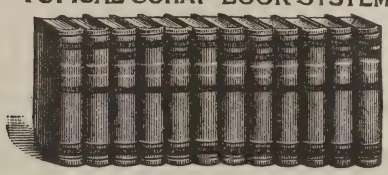
TOPICAL SCRAP-BOOK SYSTEM.



THE NEED OF IT.

Articles of great value are constantly appearing in the secular and religious periodicals; and any one who does not save newspaper matter is losing a great deal. The words of One wiser than Solomon are pertinent here: "Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost."

But all the methods for preserving newspaper clippings, previously in use, have serious defects:—take too much time to find, to fold, re-fold and replace them, and are not handy for rapid reference.

THE TOPICAL SCRAP-BOOK SYSTEM

does away with all these difficulties. With this library any literary person secures (in handsome form, and at his fingers' ends) a systematic classification of all valuable newspaper matter. It is not one or two scrap-books filled with all sorts of matter, but for each important subject, made expressly for the purpose, with the title lettered on the back, (see cut above.) and bound in half leather.

THE TITLES.

We put upon the books ANY TITLES YOU MAY WANT. The following titles are samples which have been ordered:

John Hall, D D., says: "It is a better book than the name implies, for it takes familiar facts from the works of God and employs them, with learning and devoutness, for the illustration of vital truths, only learned from the word of God. Dr. McCook has here, as elsewhere, used his talent for natural history wisely and effectively; and his work is practical and adapted to our times as may be seen in the discussion of such questions as a Christian's right to hold land. The book is fitted to be widely useful."
New York Observer says: "They are written somewhat in the vein of Professor Drummond's 'Natural Law in the Spiritual World,' and will be welcomed by intelligent readers who are awake to the discussion which is going on in the world over the Book of Books and the Book of Nature."

Theodore L. Cuyler, D.D., says: "The style of book is racy and most readable. It ought to be read at every fireside in the land. May the Holy Spirit attend and bless the circulation of this capital volume."
National Baptist says: "The volume is a commentary. The sermons are full of sweetest evangelical thought."

Green's Greek-English Lexicon to the New Testament. Crown 8vo, 744 pp., price, net..... .....$2.00
Its value to the most learned is evidenced by the fact that every one of the Revisers of the New Testament used it constantly while engaged in their work. And, as one of the ablest of the American Revisers was actively engaged in its preparation it is not strange that it indicates at a glance the reasons for a very large proportion of the changes in the Revised New Testament; and it may be safely said, that for an intelligent and critical examination of the merits of the new Revision no one book in existence is so valuable.

"Resolved, That we tender our warmest thanks to Dr. Dorchester for the able course of lectures given recently before the School of Theology on the subject, "Concessions of Liberalists to Orthodoxy." For the extensive research shown by him, as well as the skillful presentation of the three cardinal topics, he is worthy of all commendation. THE MEDICAL NEWS.

A NATIONAL WEEKLY MEDICAL PERIODICAL CONTAINING 24–28 QUARTO PAGES OF READING MATTER IN EACH NUMBER.
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY.

HOBART AMORY HARE, M.D., EDITOR.

THE MEDICAL NEWS bears to THE AMERICAN JOURNAL OF THE MEDICAL SCIENCES the relation of a newspaper to a magazine, and occupies the same leading portion in the esteem of the profession. With the year 1890 the price of THE NEWS is reduced to Four Dollars per annum in accordance with the policy which has added 50 per cent. to the subscription list of THE AMERICAN JOURNAL. A reduction in bulk has been made, and at the same time an increase in the mass of information presented. Three new departments have been added, viz: Clinical Memoranda, Therapeutical Notes, and regular Correspondence. These, in addition to Original Articles and Lectures, Hospital Notes, Progress, Editorials, Society Proceedings, Reviews, and News Items, furnish the readers of THE NEWS with a complete account of the medical life and progress of the times.

The American Journal of the Medical Sciences.

A MONTHLY, CONTAINING IN EACH ISSUE 112 LARGE OCTAVO PAGES, FULLY ILLUSTRATED.

EDWARD P. DAVIS, A.M., M.D., EDITOR.

WITH the first issue for 1890, THE AMERICAN JOURNAL OF THE MEDICAL SCIENCES enters upon its seventy-first year, still the leader of American medical periodicals. In its long career it has developed to perfection the features of usefulness in its department of literature, and presents them in unrivalled attractiveness. It is the medium chosen by the leading minds of the profession on both sides of the Atlantic for the presentation of elaborate Original Articles; its Reviews are noted for discernment and absolute candor, and its Classified Summaries of Progress present, each month, an epitome of medical advances gleaned by specialists in the various departments. According to unquestionable authority, "It contains many original papers of the highest value; nearly all the real criticisms and reviews which we possess; and such carefully prepared summaries of the progress of medical science and notices of foreign works, that from this file alone, were all other publications of the press for the last fifty years destroyed, it would be possible to reproduce the great majority of the real contributions of the world to medical science during that period."

SUBSCRIPTION RATE REDUCED TO $4.00 PER ANNUM.

It is safe to say that in no other publication of its kind can an investment be made with the certainty of so rich a return. When it is taken in connection with the weekly MEDICAL NEWS, the reader can rest assured that nothing of importance in the life of the great medical world will escape his attention. To lead every subscriber to prove this fact for himself, the Commutation rate has been greatly reduced, being fixed at the exceedingly low figure of Seven Dollars and Fifty Cents Per Annum in Advance.

BY MARGARET MACDONALD PULLMAN

With 63 Original Illustrations, engraved on wood by George T. Andrew, and printed under his direction Size, 9½ x 12½ inches Oblong quarto Artistic Cover of two colored cloths, beautifully ornamented, full gilt, $3.75; Turkey Morocco, $9.00; Tree Calf, $10.00; English Seal Style, $7.00.

These new illustrations by the talented artist of "Days Serene" remind one very forcibly of Birket Foster, there is such a calm, peaceful serenity about them, such as one finds in the English landscapes, and in them Mrs. Pullman demonstrates anew that she possesses not only talent of a high order, but a true conception of the beautiful in nature. "Summerland" breathes through all its pages, and each full-page illustration is ushered in by a gem from the artist's pencil, giving the title, each of which is a poem in itself. The artist takes her friends "up the winding path that suggests the cottage life just over the hills, with its warm blue breathings of the hidden hearth"; over the "soft hills studded with flowers," made musical with the "chirp of birds and bleat of sheep;" into "meadows with perfumed air," beside "the brook fringed with flowing grasses and cool, quiet reflections;" thence to the softly gliding river,

"Where the reeds and rushes are long and rank,
And the weeds grow thick on the winding bank;"

through the "balmy pine woods" to the Old Homestead on the sands,

"Where the tide is low, but soft and slow
Is creeping higher up the lea,"

and the sea is blue with heaven's own reflection. The treatment of the subject is such that the heart is touched, and made to feel that life hath much sweetness.

The cover, in two colors of cloth, is made from the author's design, and is very artistic. The high quality of Lee and Shepard's art books, including paper, printing, and binding, is maintained throughout the present work.

THE WOOING OF GRANDMOTHER GREY

AN IDYL OF THE OLDEN TIME

Poem by Kate Tannatt Woods. Illustrations by Copeland. Engraved and printed under the direction of George T. Andrew. Oblong quarto. Twenty-four illustrations. Gold or White Cloth, full gilt, gilt edges, $2.00.

"There is much simple pathos in the opening scene, where the old grandmother, seated beside her old husband, in front of the old fireplace, with seven little stockings of their grandchildren hanging from the old-fashioned mantel, recalls the details of their ancient courtship. The interest is enhanced by a series of appropriate pictures illustrating the events she recalls. A wild snow-storm, with the stalwart young lover wading through the drifts, his placing the ring on her finger, the entrance of 'grandsir' to the discomfiture of the young people, the visit to the cellar for a mug of cider and an apron full of apples, the popping of the corn and the subsequent popping of the question, the eager faces of the expectant children, the glowing merriment of the young haymakers, the solemn ticking of the old clock, the silent winter sunrise, and the tender hues of the summer sunset, and at last the old woman's lonely retrospection of the vanished years, — seldom have we seen so much homely joy and sadness portrayed and interpreted in a few graceful stanzas. Mrs. Woods's illustrated poem is a very beautiful gift, which will never cease to interest and delight its recipients." — Woman's Journal.

IN A FAIR COUNTRY — MISS JEROME'S NEW VOLUME

With 55 Full-page Original Illustrations, engraved on wood, and printed under the direction of Geo. T. Andrew With nearly one hundred pages of text, by Thomas Wentworth Higginson Elegantly bound in gold cloth, full gilt, gilt edges, $6.00; Turkey Morocco, $15.00; Tree Calf, $15.00; English Seal Style, $10.00.

The Art Amateur says of this book:

"'In a Fair Country' is a pleasing selection of essays from the 'Out-Door Papers' of Thomas Wentworth Higginson, one of the most agreeable of living New England writers. They are illustrated by Miss Irene E. Jerome's naive and charming designs. Miss Jerome owes more to her innate sense of beauty than any school could teach her. Her drawings of May flowers, of the early warbler on the budding maple twig, of the nodding hepaticas, the blue-birds perched on an apple bough among the blossoms, of meadows, bouquets, and rocky uplands in 'April Days,' are the next best thing to the reality. 'My Out-Door Study' has pictures of red lilies and dragon-fly, of island-dotted lakes, of clematis vines, iris, and water grass. In 'Bird Life,' the wild cherry, the oriole's nest, the song sparrow singing his anthem from the top of a stake twined about with morning glories, the scarlet tanager in his green recess, and the cardinal grosbeak on his alder twig over the brook, are only a few of many charming studies. 'The Procession of the Flowers is made to pass before our eyes, from the moccasin flower to the autumnal fringed gentian and the winter-blooming hazel branch. The volume ends with the essay on 'Snow,' which is, as it were, lined with ermine, in the shape of drawings of winter woods and winter birds. These drawings are Nature's self. We cannot imagine a gift which should be better received by one, who, like author and artist, is fond of American country scenery for its own sake."

Size, 9½ x 13 inches.

AN OLD LOVE LETTER — MISS JEROME'S LATEST WORK

Designed and illuminated by Irene E. Jerome, author of "One Year's Sketch Book," "Nature's Hallelujah," "In a Fair Country," "A Bunch of Violets," "The Message of the Bluebird," etc. Antique Covers, tied with Silk. Boxed. $1.00.

Miss Jerome, in this the sixth book of her matchless art-works, has entered a new realm of illustrative art, and has given us a novel but a beautiful combination of text and delicate illumination, in which artistic talent and tender religious sentiment are tastefully blended. Each page of this chaste volume contains an apt quotation from the New Testament, in which the spirit of Divine love shines forth. These loving words are set in ornamental lettering, surrounded on each page by an original design illuminated in the old missal style of colors and gold, printed in fac-simile of Miss Jerome's original drawings, producing a brilliant effect, the whole forming a delicate and exquisite love letter, which is marvellously executed, and which will bestow pleasure upon all friends and lovers, whether young or old, who appreciate pure love. The covers, with appropriate designs, are printed on rich antique paper, tied with silk floss, which is secured to the cover by a seal. By reason of fitness of text and of its attractive style, no less than by its choice collection of passages fragrant with the breath of the love such as can be found only in inspired writings, this latest art-gem, with golden words, will appeal as a charming gift for Christmas and Easter. "An Old Love Letter" is a suitable title, because it presents the spirit of love in the inspiring words of love which have come down to us from the ages.

THE GUEST BOOK — WELCOME THE COMING, SPEED THE PARTING GUEST

In which may be recorded the coming and the going of Guests with pages for autographs, incidents, and sketches pertaining to Pleasant Visits, Social Calls, and Other Gatherings. Designed and Illustrated by Annie F. Cox, author of "Baby's Kingdom" New Edition. Gold Cloth, $3.75. Calf or Turkey Morocco, $9.00.

This is a beautiful as well as useful book, and unique in design and construction. Bound in handsome gold cloth, printed on fine paper, and illustrated with illuminated cuts and ornamental letters, it will be an object of interest to those who shall possess it, and not less so to their guests and callers, and may be made a record-book whose value will increase with the passing years.

There are several pages for Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving, and other special occasions.

BABY'S KINGDOM — A NEW AND ELEGANT EDITION

Wherein may be chronicled, as memories for grown-up days, the Mother's Story of the Progress of the Baby. Designed and illustrated by Annie F. Cox. Oblong Quarto. Blue and White Cloth, Gold and White Cloth, Full Gold Cloth, $3.75. Turkey Morocco, $9.00.

This is practically a new work, the illustrations and text having been re-drawn and engraved, and many additions made to the contents. The new shape and elegant binding will commend this edition to all customers.

This work is finely printed on heavy-tinted paper, and appropriate designs and wise prophecies occupy the pages. There may be given the little stranger's date of birth, and here, too, may appear in black and white, the faithful figures of its weight. Day by day, the loving mother can place on its pages the various stages of baby's growth — the weight from time to time, the first step, the first tooth, its gifts, its first attempts at speech, its first words, and all those wonderful events of baby life, which shall serve as an accurate record of the facts for her own gratification and for the future benefit of him or her, the memory of whose earliest days is thus beautifully treasured up. The illustrations are of the highest order and the sentiments expressed on its pages are at once novel and pleasing, and add a large amount of interest to the illustrations. The thought which conceived the publication of such a book is a most worthy one; as among all the treasures which in our maturing years we might gather, none would possess the peculiar value attached to a book of this character, where a mother's hand recorded our early biography of the long ago.

ALL AROUND THE YEAR — 1891 — LEE AND SHEPARD'S NEW CALENDAR

Designed in Sepiatint and Color by J. Pauline Sunter. Printed on heavy cardboard, gilt edges, with chain, tassels, and rings. Size, 4¾ x 5½ inches. Boxed, price, 50 cents.

The marvellous success which has attended the production of Messrs. Lee and Shepard's Calendars in previous years has led them to bring out an entirely new one for 1891, which far surpasses any yet issued in the designs and quality of workmanship. In addition to the calendar for each month each card contains a charming design and an appropriate sentiment, in delicate tints and colors. The designs are mostly of chubby children in various scenes, drawn in the picturesque style of the artist, and, altogether, it is the handsomest and most delicate calendar yet offered. The cards are tastily tied with white silk cord, and a chain attached, by which they may be hung on the wall or elsewhere, and are so arranged on rings, that they may be turned over like the leaves of a book as each month shall be needed for reference.

ONE MERRIE CHRISTMAS TIME
A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO YOU — NEW EDITIONS OF LEE AND SHEPARD'S COLOR NOVELTIES

Printed on heavy cardboard in delicate colors, gilt edges, with rings, ribbon, and chains. Boxed, price, 75 cents.

"We notice two dainty things, entitled respectively 'One Merrie Christmas Time,' and 'A Happy New Year to You.' They are printed in exquisitely delicate, well-combined tints, on thick, gilt-edged board, held together by ribbons and pretty chains and rings. They are designed by J. Pauline Sunter, and appropriately carry out the intentions of their titles.

"They have quaint, eerie little figures, in all sorts of attitudes, that give piquant significance to the verses selected as their companions. The landscape and flower work, like the figures, are full of life and sweetly pictured beauty, and often with some little humor therein. The individuality of the illustrations is what specially catches the eye and makes one involuntarily seek to interpret the full connection between word and picture. Their arrangement is worthy of note in its charming effects, and some exceedingly beautiful and sweet thoughts are expressed in their composition. As a holiday souvenir for a friend nothing could be more suitable than one of the above mentioned. That it would give satisfaction and pleasure we doubt not. Each comes in a neat box, and the tout ensemble is a credit to the publishers." — Boston Times.

OUR BABY'S BOOK — THE WELL-SPRING OF PLEASURE

In this book, the happy mother of the wonderful baby can record all the funny, bright, cunning, and peculiar idiosyncracies of the blessed child. Every baby has a kingdom, and rules in it right royally, and every king and queen ought to have a book of "Chronicles;" and this beautiful book is just fit for the chronicles of a baby's kingdom. In it may be recorded the mother's story for grown-up days, — the birth, the naming, the weight from time to time, the first smile, the first "goo," the first tooth, the first step, etc.

LEE AND SHEPARD'S GOOD COMPANY SERIES, No. 1

By Phineas Cloth, $1.00 Paper, 50 cents

This is a remarkable story, not written wholly for the passing moment, but sure to arouse the thought of the reading public and direct it along new lines regarding some of the pressing questions of the day. It is written with a purpose, and is at once an allegory and a satire, although the author does not attempt to point the moral. The style is crisp and forcible, and the plot shows rare inventive genius as well as skill in the working out of it. The interest in the work, as a story, is maintained throughout, and the strength of it is not sacrificed to sustain the allegory. It is sure to find a multitude of readers and in fact to become one of the leading books of the season.

A SUMMER HOLIDAY IN EUROPE BY MARY E. BLAKE

Author of "On the Wing," "Mexico, Picturesque, Political, Progressive," etc. Cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

The author, well known as "M. E. B." of the Boston Journal, possesses all the qualities which make a good traveller, together with a power of description which so many travellers lack. Prepared by previous training and experience, she sees and comprehends all the beauties of sea and sky, valley and mountain top, as well as the masterpieces of man's ingenuity and patience. The reader is taken through Ireland, France, and Switzerland, returning by way of London, visiting the Paris Exposition and all places of special interest, and finding many things worthy of note often passed over by the ordinary traveller. An introductory chapter, descriptive of the real traveller, who is exemplified in the chapters following, forms a valuable portion of the book, which will be hailed as a rare addition to the list of books on European travel.

THE CO-OPERATIVE COMMONWEALTH A REVISED EDITION

An Exposition of Modern Socialism By Laurence Gronlund, author of "Ça Ira, or Danton in the French Revolution," "Our Destiny," etc. Paper, 50 cents Cloth, $1.00

"This volume," says the New York Sun, "sets forth with admirable conciseness and distinctness all the leading tenets of the socialistic philosophy and political economy. No American reader who desires to be well informed can afford to neglect the lucid, learned, and often eloquent exposition which Mr. Gronlund offers us."

"People who are curious to know just what Modern Socialism is — what are its dreams, its repressed desires its plans and expectations for the future, its passionate folly, its mad hatreds, its exalted enthusiasm — can scarcely do better than to read Laurence Gronlund's Co-operative Commonwealth." — Boston Journal.

Mr. Gronlund has re-written his work, and added such points as have developed, in the theories advanced, since the work was first published.

OUR DESTINY THE INFLUENCE OF NATIONALISM UPON RELIGION AND MORALS

FIVE-MINUTE DECLAMATIONS PART SECOND

Selected and adapted by Walter K. Fobes. Cloth. 50 cents.

As will be seen by its title, this is a companion volume to Mr. Fobes' "Five-Minute Recitations," "Readings," and "Declamations." The author's long experience as a teacher of elocution qualifies him for the preparation of the volume, and the success which has attended the previous issues fully justifies this new one. The variety is sufficient to suit the taste of any student who may have occasion to select from it, and an examination will show at once how valuable such a work must prove to both teacher and student.

NEW ENGLAND BREAKFAST BREADS LUNCHEON AND TEA BISCUITS

By Lucia Gray Swett. Designs by L. M. P. Cloth, $1.00.

ELEMENTS OF DESIGN FOR THE USE OF TEACHERS

By Dr. William Rimmer. A new edition. Illustrated with 48 plates. Cloth, $2.00, net. By mail, $2.25.

The author does not offer a new set of patterns to be copied, or a short cut to the drawing of the human figure, but a contribution towards a method of teaching that shall apply to drawing, the same fundamental principles universally adopted in the teaching of Elementary Science; not to make it easy by making it insignificant, but by making clear the essential principles at the outset and holding them fast to the end, only rendering access easier at first by reducing them to their simplest and most rudimentary expression.

THE DEMAGOGUE A POSTHUMOUS NOVEL BY "NASBY"

By David R Locke Cloth $1.50

Mr. Locke, known to everybody as Petroleum V. Nasby, left at the time of his death, in manuscript, one of his best literary productions, in the form of a political novel which he named "The Demagogue," in which an inside view is given of the working of political schemes. The book abounds in striking dramatic situations, and great skill is displayed in the delineation of the characters. There is a moral to the story, which is not obtruded upon the reader, but which, in short, means that "smartness" is not the one element in a man's make-up to be admired above all others. It is a story for the times, strong, taking, and educating, and so true to life are the scenes and characters that it would seem as though the author had seen and studied his dramatis personæ during the stirring times when he was a power in politics.

LET HIM FIRST BE A MAN AND OTHER SHORT ESSAYS ON EDUCATION AND CULTURE

By Dr. W. H. Venable, author of "The Teacher's Dream," "June on the Miami, and other Poems," etc.

BRIGHT DAYS IN THE OLD PLANTATION TIME

By Mary Ross Banks New edition Illustrated $1.50

"The accuracy with which she represents the dialect of the plantation negroes in the early days of Georgia is perfect and wonderful. This feature alone gives the book a value which cannot be over-estimated." — Hon. L. Q. C. Lamar, U. S. Supreme Court.

"A series of pleasant, lively, entertaining, genre sketches, brightly written and seeming to reproduce the essential spirit of the scenes which they treat of. The great charm of the book is the admirable manner in which the dialect of the old plantation negro has been reproduced, and the simplicity and naturalness with which the negro character, superstitions, legends, and sports are presented. The book will divide honors with 'Uncle Remus' as a classic of Dixie land." — Boston Post.

A POCKET-BOOK OF PRIVATE DEVOTION

By Rev. Hugh Hutton, M.A. Cloth 25 cents

This neat little work contains a prayer for every morning and evening in the week, and also for particular occasions, such as sickness, adversity, death, etc. Each exercise is divided into sections, so that any portion may be used as a separate or occasional prayer, if circumstances require. It can be easily carried in the pocket, as indicated by the title.

A LOOK UPWARD BY SUSIE C. CLARK

Cloth $1.00

A book whose cheery optimistic outlook and intuitive character form a strong contrast to the prevailing externalism of the day, inasmuch as it touches the hidden springs of spiritual causation and reveals the soul's innate powers, its inalienable birthright to health, growth, and immortality.

Metaphysical literature has usually presented the new school of thought on so abstract and theoretical a plane as to prove unattractive, often incomprehensible, to the general reader. This work practicalizes and makes clear and reasonable the problem of good and evil, the formative power of thought, its demonstration as a healing factor, and bears a message of freedom from all physical, mental, or spiritual bondage.

ARMY LIFE IN A BLACK REGIMENT NEW EDITION

By Thomas Wentworth Higginson, author of "Out-Door Papers," "Common Sense about Women," "Travellers and Outlaws," "Oldport Days," "Malbone," "Young Folks' History of the United States," "Young Folks' Book of American Explorers," "Hints on Writing and Speech Making," "Short Studies of American Authors" Cloth, gilt top, $1.50

An abolitionist before the war, Colonel Higginson entered upon his duties of commander of one of the first organized black regiments with his heart in the service and his feelings warmed towards the men he was chosen to command. To their advantage he added the literary facility of describing well and truly his experiences; these he has given in the present volume, and rarely has been given a more amusing or a more graphic embodiment of the peculiarities and capabilities of the negro character in its transition state from slavery to freedom. The narrative abounds in incident, and will amply repay readers in its perusal.

AMERICAN TEXT-BOOK FOR LETTERS ENLARGED EDITION

By N. S. Dearborn $2.00

This work has long been a standard authority for Designers, Engravers, Painters, Stone Cutters, etc., and has now reached the sixteenth edition. The author, who is a practical engraver of long experience, has reissued the work, adding several pages of crests, etc. The remarks of the author on the various styles of letters, making of ink, punctuation, etc., are of great value.

THE TAKING OF LOUISBURG BY SAMUEL ADAMS DRAKE

Author of "Burgoyne's Invasion of 1777," etc. Illustrations and maps Cloth 50 cents

This is the second volume of the series of "Decisive Events in American History," and it need hardly be said that the author has abundant qualifications for the full and impartial discussion of these events recorded, as well as the power of making such a narrative exceedingly interesting. He sets forth the movements leading to the taking of Louisburg with dramatic effect and in a very graphic style, covering all the important points and commenting upon them in a wise and careful manner. The work is illustrated with maps and cuts, and is supplemented with explanatory notes.

NEW JUVENILES AND NEW EDITIONS

ON THE BLOCKADE

A NEW VOLUME BY OLIVER OPTIC IN "THE BLUE AND THE GRAY SERIES"

Emblematic dies Cloth, two colors Illustrated $1.50

"On the Blockade" is marked by all the popular features of the preceding volumes of the series, and deals with many of the same characters. The young readers will be interested in following the career of Christie Passford and his friends, whose varied experiences will be found full of interest, and we are sure they will never want to lay this volume down until the last page has been read. The author has written nothing more interesting or romantic than the Blue and the Gray Series, the scenes of which are connected with the Civil War, and many of them being founded on facts. The preceding volumes of this series, in uniform style, are "Taken by the Enemy" and "Within the Enemy's Lines."

WONDERFUL DEEDS AND DOINGS OF LITTLE GIANT BOAB AND HIS TALKING RAVEN TABIB

By Ingersoll Lockwood, author of "Travels and Adventures of Little Baron Trump and his Wonderful Dog Bulger," etc. Profusely illustrated by Clifton Johnson Quarto cloth, $2.00

The hero of this story is the grandson of Boabdil the Moor, and the book is an account of his marvellous adventures. His great strength begins to manifest itself soon after his birth, and thereafter he is perpetually performing wonderful feats. The narrative is told most entertainingly and naturally, and the interest is sustained throughout. A great deal of skill is displayed in the conduct of the romance, and a great deal of vigor in the descriptions. The talking raven and scolding parrot supply an element of comedy, and there is not wanting a touch of pathos. The whole forms a delightful romance for young readers and for the older reader who is not averse to a tale of the romantic and marvellous. The work is profusely illustrated by nearly one hundred and fifty drawings from the talented artist, Clifton Johnson.

TRAVELS AND ADVENTURES OF LITTLE BARON TRUMP AND HIS WONDERFUL DOG BULGER

By Ingersoll Lockwood Illustrated by George Wharton Edwards Quarto cloth, $2.00

"This autumn an eminent Boston publishing house have put forth one of the most original books for young people ever written by an American author. It contains over 300 pages, and is fully illustrated by a very well-known artist, whose work from month to month gives zest and charm to St. Nicholas. It is hard to say exactly what this book is like, being so utterly unlike anything as yet published. Suffice it to say that a most wonderful boy figures as its hero, supported and aided by one of the most wonderful dogs that ever lived or ever will live. The two are inseparable companions, travel together, suffer together, fight together, save each other's lives, and finally return home loaded with honors and world-wide fame. That great delight will be taken in following these two extraordinary friends over land and sea, through flood and forest, into the countries inhabited by strange beings and strange animals, may be most safely predicted."

THE KELP-GATHERERS

A NEW VOLUME BY J. T. TROWBRIDGE IN "THE START IN LIFE SERIES"

The characters are drawn as only he can draw them, and all the boys will recognize them, for they live in their neighborhood. The story, with its adventures and lesson, is very entertainingly told and well illustrated. This makes the third volume in "The Start in Life" series, the preceding volumes of which are "A Start in Life," a story of the Genesee country; cloth, illustrated, $1.00; "Biding His Time, or Andrew Hapnell's Fortune;" cloth, illustrated, $1.00. The three volumes in a neat box.

PARDS

A STORY OF TWO HOMELESS BOYS

By Effie W. Merriman editor of "The Housekeeper" Minneapolis Cloth Illustrated $1.00

An interesting story of two homeless, destitute lads, who were devotedly attached to each other. Their gradual progress from absolute destitution to comfort and respectability is amusingly and naturally told. The scenes and incidents in their careers are portrayed in a manner to intensely interest children, and to impress upon them the duties owed to one another and a desire to improve.

A reviewer of long experience says, "Such a bright children's book as this has very seldom come within the range of my reading. It is certainly a long way ahead of many of the popular juveniles of the day."

A LOST JEWEL BY HARRIET PRESCOTT SPOFFORD

Cloth Illustrated $1.00

This is a story that will hold the reader's attention from first to last. The incidents narrated are perfectly natural in their happenings, and the characters are sketched with skill and vigor, as would be expected in any work by this author. The story concerns the American life of an Italian girl, and her adventures, some of which are very funny, with her boy and girl friends in this country, and will certainly amuse and instruct all the boys and girls who read it.

THE LOG OF THE MARYLAND OR ADVENTURES AT SEA

By Capt. Douglas Frazar, author of "Perseverance Island, or Robinson Crusoe of the 19th Century," "Practical Boat Sailing," etc. Illustrated Cloth $1.50

It rarely happens that one who has spent some years at sea has the inclination and the literary ability to describe his experiences and adventures, but the author of "Perseverance Island" gives us an interesting book in this story of a voyage in the good ship Maryland. The scenes and incidents of every-day life on board ship, and the detail of the sailor's life at sea, the hard work and strict discipline as well as the amusements of Jack Tar are lively and clearly described. As the voyage continues, the reader will be immensely interested in the ingenious devices of the captain and Mr. Frisbee for breaking the monotony of the voyage, as well as by the adventures among the pirates in the China Seas.

DOROTHY'S EXPERIENCE BY ADELINE TRAFTON KNOX

Author of "An American Girl Abroad," "His Inheritance," "Katherine Earle," etc.
Cloth Illustrated (About) $1.00

"Miss Trafton's writing greatly resembles Miss Thackeray's, which is high praise to bestow on any writer's work. Each delights in describing beautiful things, and both have the power to fill their books with sunlight and the scent of flowers. They both excel, too, in describing pleasant people — ingenious, noble young men, courtly old men, graceful girls, and rare old ladies with sweet smiles and silvery hair." — N. Y. Ev'g Post.

STORIES OF THE CIVIL WAR

By Albert F. Blaisdell, A.M., author of "First Steps with American and British Authors," "Study of the English Classics," "Readings from the Waverley Novels," "Blaisdell's Temperance Physiologies." Illustrated Cloth $1.00

A book of stories of the Great Civil War, the aim of which is to arouse in the younger generation, and those who may come after, a spirit of patriotism and a lively interest in the brave men who fought in the war. In making the selections the editor has endeavored to give such as are interesting, graphic, and founded on fact, written in a lively, attractive style, and in clean language, principally by well-known writers. The book is illustrated by portraits and full-page cuts of some of the principal events.

Price, 50 cents

One of the nicest collections of verses for little people ever made, containing many beautiful hymns, songs, and stories in rhyme, some of which are familiar and all equally charming. The best writers of verse for children, among whom are George MacDonald, Charles and Mary Lamb, Whittier, Celia Thaxter, Christina G. Rossetti, Harriet McEwen Kimball, Marian Douglas, and others, have been drawn upon, the selections, which are simple and wholesome, being such as can be easily comprehended and committed to memory by children.

HEROES AND MARTYRS OF INVENTION BY GEORGE MAKEPEACE TOWLE

Author of "Heroes of History," "Young People's History of England," "Young People's History of Ireland," "The Nation in a Nutshell," etc. Cloth Illustrated $1.00

NEW EDUCATIONAL WORKS

COMPAYRÉ'S ELEMENTS OF PSYCHOLOGY AUTHORIZED TRANSLATION

By Gabriel Compayré. Translated by William H. Payne, Ph.D., LL.D., Chancellor of the University of Nashville, and President of the Peabody Normal College 12mo Cloth

A clear idea of the object, character, and scope of this unrivalled work will best be given by extracts from the preface of the learned translator, who says: —

"A book to serve the needs of the general teaching class should have, it would seem, the following qualities:

"It should contain only the essentials of psychology.

"A book for the dissemination of scientific truth among persons who need it first of all for the applications they can make of it.

"It should be written in terms readily intelligible by ordinary readers.

"As most teachers of youth are believers in the spirituality of the soul, and in the absolute dissimilarity of mind and matter, they prefer a book whose tone and treatment are in accord with the Christian spirit."

The translator claims that Compayré's Elements of Psychology embodies these qualities to a greater degree than any other work extant, and that M. Compayré's experience as an instructor in Normal Schools has enabled him to determine the kind and amount of matter, mode of exposition, and sequence of topics, which are best adapted to the intellectual and professional needs of the teacher and student.

LIFE AND WORKS OF HORACE MANN (ABOUT OCT., 1890)

Containing the Life by Mrs. Mary Mann, and Lectures, Reports, Essays, and Miscellaneous Papers, edited by his son, George Combe Mann Library edition, five volumes Crown 8vo Cloth

BY SUBSCRIPTION Parties subscribing for sets before publication will be furnished the above at $10.00 per set, net; after publication, the price will be advanced to $12.50 per set, net Separate volumes, $2.50 each, net

In response to a continuing demand for the educational writings of Horace Mann, an enlarged and complete edition is announced, consisting of his Life by his widow, and four volumes of his Works, edited by his son, Geo. C. Mann. Soon after Mr. Mann's death, two volumes were published, containing "Lectures on Education," and "Annual Reports" as Secretary of the Massachusetts Board of Education, included in three volumes of this new edition. The collection is enlarged by the addition of a large amount of material, including the Eighth Report, omitted from the previous edition, copious extracts from the "Common School Journal," and numerous orations and addresses on Education, together with an excellent review of Mr. Mann's life and works, from the Revue Pedagogique.

These volumes are submitted to the public with the conviction that after the lapse of half a century, its words will still offer a guide and an inspiration towards the noble work of raising humanity to the capacity for self-government.

TEN BOYS WHO LIVED ON THE ROAD FROM LONG AGO TO NOW BY JANE ANDREWS

Twenty Illustrations Library Edition, $1.00 School Edition, net, 50 cents

The publishers offer a school edition of the above, uniform with "Seven Little Sisters Who Live on the Round Ball," "Seven Little Sisters Prove their Sisterhood," "The Stories Mother Nature Told Her Children."

LEE AND SHEPARD, BOSTON:

I have been reading the new book by Jane Andrews, "Ten Boys Who Lived on the Road from Long Ago to Now," which you have just published, and cannot forbear saying that in all my acquaintance with juvenile literature I know of nothing in many respects equal to this remarkable book, which contains in its small compass the concentrated knowledge of vast libraries. It is the admirably told story of past centuries of the world's progress, and the amount of study and labor required in its preparation seems almost appalling to contemplate. One is struck with the peculiar excellence of its style, clear, easy, graceful, and picturesque, which a child cannot fail to comprehend, and in which "children of a larger growth" will find an irresistible charm. That it will prove a favorite with old and young I have no doubt. It seems to me that nothing could be more enjoyable to the boy of our period than the story of how the boys of all ages lived and acted. Yours truly,

JOHN G. WHITTIER.

PICTURESQUE GEOGRAPHICAL READERS SECOND BOOK

THIS CONTINENT OF OURS

By Charles F. King, author of "Methods and Aids in Geography," "Home and School," etc.

In this volume the author continues the plan, so auspiciously begun in "Home and School," of presenting the study of Geography to the mind of the child in a rational and entertaining manner — based upon Herbert Spencer's idea that "sight takes the lead as a channel of perception." It is profusely illustrated from photographs and original drawings, and filled with interesting stories, conversations, and descriptions of various countries. The essentials of geography are fully embodied in the work, and it is graded and adapted to children of the grammar school age. The volume covers the general features of the North American Continent, together with British Possessions, including Canada, Mexico, and the West Indies, in detail.

RECENT PUBLICATIONS

BRUSHES AND CHISELS A STORY OF ROME

By Signor Teodoro Serrao Tri-color Cloth $1.00

"It is one of those deeply, truly passionate little stories where, viewed from the limitations of time, true love seems to fail of its happy fruition, and to be frustrated in the whirlpool of mysterious circumstance. From such a view the story is so beautiful in its intensity as to seem terrible in its tragic ending. Illuminated by the light of eternity's truths, it is a vividly portrayed scene of real life, expressing with rare power one of the ordeals through which love in its blindness must pass before coming into self-conscious existence." — Boston Times.

MARION GRAHAM BY META LANDER 12mo Cloth $1.50

Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody, of Harvard University, writes: "It may be compared and contrasted with 'Robert Elsmere,' — compared with it in its purpose of eliminating the absurdities, cruelties, and dead traditions of the popular belief; contrasted with it, insomuch as it is loyal to historical Christianity and to the supreme authority of its founder. The story in itself is fascinating, its characters admirably drawn, its plot developed with surpassing skill. There is just enough of incident to maintain and gratify the curiosity of the story-reader, while the religious aim is kept steadily in view. The book is adapted to shape and lead the thought of those who are dissatisfied with the conventionalism of sectarian teaching, and its prime merit is that it directs its readers not toward agnosticism or unbelief, but from man-made creeds to Him who is 'the Way, the Truth, and the Life.'"

EDWARD BURTON BY HENRY WOOD

Author of "Natural Law in the Business World." Price $1.25

"This is a wonderfully realistic novel. The fine and well-arranged love story which runs through the pages is used only to make bright and attractive a discussion upon living questions in theology, ethics, and sociology. The reader will seldom find the arguments pro and con more clearly and concisely stated upon evolution, socialism, and mooted questions in theology, than in these chapters. None of the characters are very bad or repulsive, but just enough painted in their true colors to bring out the beautiful coloring of others. The plot is artistically excellent, and its working, as well as the literary style, is easily marked as elegant." — Nashville American.

NORA'S RETURN A SEQUEL TO THE DOLL'S HOUSE OF HENRY IBSEN

By Ednah D. Cheney Palatine Boards 50 cents

It is worthy of a place in any library on its own merits, being written in the best style of its accomplished author, and showing many touches of cultivated nature, and is specially interesting as being a sequel to Henry Ibsen's "The Doll's House," which has touched the hearts of a world of readers. In "Nora's Return" the writer follows out the line of thought set by Ibsen, and undertakes to show how a reconciliation between the two seemingly opposite natures of Nora and Helmar is possible. The profits of the book, which is marked at fifty cents retail, will be given to the book table of the New England Hospital Fair, to be opened in Horticultural Hall, Boston, on Dec. 1, 1890.

A PRIMER OF DARWINISM AND ORGANIC EVOLUTION

By J. Y. Bergen, Jr., and Fanny D. Bergen Being a new edition of the authors' former work giving a narrative summary of the principles of the Development Theory 12mo Illustrated $1.25

No one can to-day be said to be really well educated without a knowledge of at least the cardinal principles of organic evolution, that master-key to the significance of the entire animated world, and such a knowledge can be most readily gained from the perusal of this compendious little book. While it is not beyond the comprehension of the average high school pupil, it contains much that will be new to most cultivated people who are not thoroughly familiar with the voluminous works of Darwin, Wallace, Huxley, Haeckel, and the host of other European and American investigators and writers who have contributed to the enormous mass of evidence which has at last quite established the truth of the doctrine of organic evolution.

SELECTIONS FROM ROBERT BROWNING WITH PORTRAIT

Selected and arranged by Mrs. Albert Nelson Bullens Cloth Gilt Top $1.00

"Present and future admirers of Browning's poetry will find a welcome and satisfactory companion in this volume. Mrs. Bullens has made an admirable choice, and the volume serves two purposes well: it includes the poems dear to the Browning student, and spreads before the Browning novice the choicest bits of the great feast spread during the poet's lifetime." — Boston Times.

FINE ILLUSTRATED BOOKS

IN A FAIR COUNTRY

With 55 full-page Illustrations by Irene E. Jerome. Engraved on wood, and printed under the direction of Mr. Andrew, with nearly one hundred pages of text by Thomas Wentworth Higginson. Bound in Gold Cloth, gilt edges, $6; Turkey morocco, $15; Tree calf, $15; English seal style, $10.

Over the clear-cut thoughts of a modern master of classic essay, one of the foremost of American artists draws the magic pencil which has achieved so many triumphs, and starts into life the rural beauties of "April Days," "My Outdoor Studies," "Water Lilies," "The Life of Birds," "The Procession of the Flowers," and "Snow." It was a happy thought that selected these models of literary genius for illustration, a loving homage to nature which guided the artist in her wanderings "In a Fair Country." Whether floating in her boat on Concord River, with its wealth of floral adornments, its scenic surprises in the windings of its stream in and about places made famous by Thoreau and Emerson, or in her loftier flights amid the hills of "beautiful Camden" down by the sea, where the grandeur of mountain views possesses charms to wake enthusiasm, she has exhibited the same fidelity to nature in her beautiful pictures, the same exquisite taste in the selection of her subjects, which have characterized her previous achievements.

THE WOOING OF GRANDMOTHER GREY

Poem by Kate Tannatt Woods. Illustrations by Popular Artists. Engraved and printed under the direction of Mr. Andrew. Oblong quarto. Twenty-four Illustrations. Cloth, full gilt and gilt edges, $2.

"The poem and pictures together combine to form one of the sweetest and most touchingly effective things we have seen for a long time. The reminiscences of Grandmother Grey stand out in a form strongly real, and the old, old story gains new beauty from her dear old face, and the sweet, lingering accents of her tender words. Love had kept her heart warm and young, and the intensity of youthful emotion and the calm, reflective thought of maturer years blend into an ideal harmony that permeates the whole story. The author has told her story in a manner charming beyond expression, and its outspoken beauty does honor to her latent powers."

DAYS SERENE

Original Illustrations by MARGARET MACDONALD PULLMAN. Engraved on Wood by Geo. T. Andrew, and printed under his direction. Royal oblong quarto. Emblematic cover designs in colors. Thirty full-page original Illustrations. Full Gilt. Size, 10½ x 14½. Cloth, $5; Turkey morocco, $12.50; Tree calf, $12.50; English seal style, $9.

"The most beautifully effective holiday volume it has thus far been our pleasure to see is entitled 'Days Serene.' The volume, of a large size, is handsomely bound, with leaves of heavy, cream-tinted paper, while all of the work is beautifully done. An ineffable spirit of calm and peace broods over it all, and we feel we are a part of it ourselves, so plaintively do the trees reach out to shake hands with us; while the flowers nod familiarly, the birds fly away from us or look down saucily from some neighboring twig, and the bees busily seek their tributes from the flowers and heed us not. There is an individuality, a master hand and an understanding of Nature suggested in every stroke of the brush, and the volume is really an artistic delight." — Boston Times.

NATURE'S HALLELUJAH

By IRENE E. JEROME. Presented in a series of nearly fifty full-page illustrations (9½ x 14 inches), engraved on wood by George T. Andrew. Bound in gold cloth, full gilt, gilt edges, $6.00; Turkey morroco, $15.00; tree calf, $15.00; English seal style, $10.00.

"The book is aork of art set in gold; a sermon from nature to arrest the attention and impress the mind with the love of God. Choice verses are scattered among the exquisite sketches. One of the best literary features of the work is the introduction from the artist's own pen. There are nearly a hundred large full-page sketches of birds and flowers, children and landscapes, — all beautiful, some quaint, with here and there a delicate bit of humor thrown in, and quaint conceits and dainty bits of pretty suggestiveness sparkling all the way through. In thought and execution, in imaginative and in mechanical work, the book doubtless takes the first rank among the fine gift-books of the season. Its devotional tone and pervading spirit of gentleness and love, of serenity and faith, will commend it especially at Christmas-tide." — The Living Church.

ONE YEAR'S SKETCH BOOK

By IRENE E. JEROME. An Original Series of Illustrations from Nature, comprising forty-six full-page Pictures (9½ x 14 inches) of great power and beauty, engraved on wood by Geo. T. Andrew, in the best manner. The volume is bound in gold cloth, full gilt, gilt edges, $6.00; Turkey morocco, $15.00; tree calf, $15.00; English seal style, $10.00.

"After looking through this sketch-book, and lingering over each page, which seems more beautiful than the last, we unhesitatingly say it is the most beautiful book of the kind we ever saw. It is 'Nature's Art Gallery' — a whole year — spring, summer, autumn, winter, are exquisitely represented by drawings of landscape, flowers, birds, woodland scenes, etc. Each page contains one of these illustrations, executed in the finest wood engraving, on paper of the most delicate texture and tint, and each has a fitting verse or line describing it, by some well-known poet. The conception of such a book could only have originated in the mind of an artist, and a master-hand could only have carried it out. The publishers have used their utmost skill in producing this volume, making it an elegant gift." — Christian Observer.

"THE MESSAGE OF THE BLUEBIRD, Told to Me to Tell to Others"

An Illustrated Souvenir. By IRENE E. JEROME. Engraved on Wood, under the direction of George T. Andrew.

Eight full-page illustrations, wood-cuts, printed on plated paper, are enclosed in covers of Palatine Board, Gold Title, and tied with ribbon, neatly packed in an attractive box. $1.00. Cloth, Blue and Gold, $2.00.

A BUNCH OF VIOLETS

By IRENE E. JEROME. Original Illustrations, engraved on wood and printed under the direction of George T. Andrew. Quarto. Elegantly bound in gold cloth, full gilt, gilt edged, $3.75; English seal style, $7.00; full Turkey morocco, $9.00; tree calf, $9.00; Palatine style, $2.

In this volume Miss Jerome has collected poetry relating to the exquisite little flower so dear to the lover of country scenes. The illustrations form a procession of violet-decked scenes from the first picture of a little girl with a basket of the blossoms, to the last page where a child is weeping because spring has departed and every violet is gone. Miss Jerome spends the summers in outdoor studies of art, now in New England and again in Colorado. Her series of Christmas books are charming. — Commercial Gazette.

¶ PLASTIC SKETCHES

By J. G. and J. F. Low, the famous tile artists, being a series of designs, making forty-seven original photogravures, 10 x 12 inches, in satin portfolio. Price, $15.00

"This house has recently issued an Art Work, which is unique in the field of Art literature, and is one of the handsomest, most tasteful, and most liberal publications of the season. We refer to 'Plastic Sketches,' a veritable portfolio, consisting of a series of Albertype pictures reproduced from the famous Chelsea tile-pictures first given to the world about six years ago by Messrs. J. G. and J. F. Low, of Chelsea, Mass. By aid of the camera, wonderful copies of these tiles have been made, so natural in appearance that he who delightedly turns the pages of this magnificent work cannot easily dispossess himself of the fancy that they stand from the paper in actual relief. This work is destined to become famous everywhere, and among all people, art students, designers, and lovers of the beautiful of all classes." — Philadelphia Item.

THE BRIDAL OF TRIERMAIN

By SIR WALTER SCOTT. With fourteen full-page Illustrations by Percy Mcquoid, R. I. Oblong 4to. Size 10½ x 14 inches. Gold cloth, $3.50; English seal style, $7.00; Turkey morocco, $9.00; tree calf, $9.00

A handsome gift book, with gold-cloth covers, fine letter-press and paper, and full-page photogravure illustrations, is this new quarto edition of Scott's ringing ballad. Great opportunities are offered by the poem to the artist, and of these the illustrator has made excellent use. His pictures, after the manner of the old Spanish masters, are spirited in style, and he has treated his subjects with sympathy and intelligence. The paper is heavy and fine, and the letter-press is exquisite. The book would make a handsome present. — The Writer.

ORCHIDS: THE ROYAL FAMILY OF PLANTS

With Illustrations from Nature by HARRIET STEWART MINER, comprising twenty-four Magnificent Specimens in Colors, each 10 x 14 inches, reproductions of some of the most celebrated and costly varieties of this peculiar branch of the floral kingdom. The volume is fourteen inches in length, eleven inches wide, one and one half inches in thickness; gilt edges, bevelled boards, and richly adorned in black and gold, making a beautiful book. Cloth, portfolio, full gilt, $15.00; Turkey morocco, $36.00; tree calf, $36.00.

"The plates are the finest specimens of art printing ever produced in any country. There is n't a shade of tint in the original flower that is not faithfully reproduced, not with a mere mechanical nicety of imitation, but the life and spirit of the flower is given. It is a bouquet which is nature itself, in everything but the odor. What the cost of the volume is only the publishers and printers know; but to make such illustrations, so full and complete, — they being simple reproductions of the flowers in all their life and beauty, — must have required an outlay of capital that would frighten any one who had not full faith in the love of the people for the beautiful." – Toledo Blade.

THE GUEST BOOK

In which may be recorded the coming and the going of guests; with pages for autographs, incidents and sketches pertaining to pleasant visits, social circles and other gatherings. Uniform in style with "Baby's Kingdom." Invented and Illustrated by ANNIE F. COX. Printed in colors. In rich binding. Cloth and gold, $3.75; Turkey morocco, $9.00; tree calf, $9.00.

MY LADY'S CASKET OF FLOWERS AND JEWELS FOR HER ADORNING

With Original Designs printed in Colors. By ELEANOR W. TALBOT. Oblong quarto. Palatine style, $1.50; Cloth, gold and silver colors, full gilt edges. Price, $2.50; Turkey morocco, $7.50; tree calf, $7.50.

This is a lovely book, suitable for a wedding, birthday, or Christmas present for a lady. The various virtues and graces considered appropriate to the gentler sex are here combined with illustrations of different gems and flowers, chosen with reference to their meaning.

PLASTIC SKETCHES. By J. G. and J. F Low, the famous tile artists, being a series of designs, making forty-seven original photogravures, 10 x 12 inches, in satin portfolio. Price $15.00.

"This house has recently issued an Art Work, which is unique in the field of art literature, and is one of the handsomest, most tasteful, and most liberal publications of the season. We refer to 'Plastic Sketches,' a veritable portfolio, consisting of a series of Albertype pictures reproduced from the famous Chelsea tile-pictures first given to the world about six years ago by Messrs J. G. and J. F. Low, of Cheleea, Mass. By aid of the camera, wonderful copies of these tiles have been made, so natural in appearance that he who delightedly turns the pages of this magnificent work cannot easily dispossess himself of the fancy that they stand from the paper in actual relief. This work is destined to become famous everywhere, and among all people, art students, designers, and lovers of the beautiful of all classes." —Philadelphia Item.

LEE AND SHEPARD'S HANDBOOKS

HANDBOOK OF BLUNDERS

Designed to prevent 1,000 common Blunders in writing and speaking By HARLAN H. BALLARD, A. M., Principal of Lenox Academy, Lenox, Mass. 50 cents.

"If he who corrects one blunder in the use of the English language deserves well, how much does he deserve who corrects a thousand?"— Book Notes.

"The habit of accurate and grammatical speech is one that deserves to be a good deal more assiduously cultivated than it is. So easy is it to fall into colloquialisms, and current inaccuracies, that few, we fancy, will turn over the pages of this little handbook without finding some weakness of their own in the use of English exposed. The volume will be worth its slight cost several times over to any one who will study and heed its suggestions."— Boston Journal.

UNIVERSAL PHONOGRAPHY

Or, Short-hand by the "Allen Method." A self-instructor, whereby more speed than long-hand writing is gained at the first lesson, and additional speed at each subsequent lesson By G. G. ALLEN, Principal of the Allen Stenographic Institute, Boston. 50 cents.

☞ There is scarcely any requirement so helpful to the student, scholar, scientist, or professional man, as short-hand writing. Heretofore, all methods have required so long a time before one could become so proficient as to make it of any advantage, that men in middle life, or busy men, have not been able to give the time to learn it; but, by the "Allen Method," one can almost in "the idle moments of a busy life," certainly in an hour a day for two or three months, become so expert as to report a lecture verbatim.

HANDBOOK OF LIGHT GYMNASTICS

By LUCY B. HUNT, Instructor in Gymnastics at Smith (Female) College, Northampton, Mass. 50 cents.

"This manual is admirably adapted for the use of teachers and pupils in public and private schools, and in seminaries and colleges, as well as a guide to health-giving exercises in the homes, especially for girls. Well-arranged series of exercises are given in free gymnastics, wand exercises, ring exercises, dumb-bells, procession, mutual-help exercises, bean-bags, marching, and a practical chapter on dress suitable for gymnastic exercises to be taken in. All these exercises have been carefully selected and thoroughly tested, and can be safely practised by any person in ordinary health."— Journal of Education.

THE HUNTER'S HANDBOOK

Containing lists of provisions and camp paraphernalia, and hints on the fire, cooking utensils, etc.; with approved receipts for camp cookery. By "AN OLD HUNTER." 50 cents.

If you are going into camp during the summer or fall, this little work will give you many hints for comfort and convenience not to be found elsewhere.

PRACTICAL BOAT-SAILING

By DOUGLAS FRAZAR. $1.00. With numerous Diagrams and Illustrations.

"Its directions are so plain, that, with the aid of the accompanying pictorial illustrations and diagrams given in the book, it does seem as if 'anybody' after reading it could safely handle a sailboat in a squall."— Times, Hartford.

HANDBOOK OF WOOD ENGRAVING

With practical instructions in the art for persons wishing to learn without an instructor. Containing a description of tools and apparatus used, and explaining the manner of engraving the various classes of work; also, a history of the art from its origin to the present time. By WILLIAM A. EMERSON, Wood Engraver. New edition. Illustrated. $1.00.

HANDBOOK OF PUNCTUATION

And other Typographical Matters For the Use of Printers, Authors, Teachers, and Scholars By MARSHALL T. BIGELOW, Corrector at the University Press, Cambridge, Mass. 50 cents.

By EDITH E. WIGGIN. 50 cents.

BROKEN ENGLISH

A Frenchman's Struggle with the English Language. Interesting as a narrative, instructive as a handbook of French conversation By Professor E. C. DUBOIS. 50 cents.

"A decidedly amusing as well as instructive narrative, showing the trials and vexations a foreigner must endure in learning our language. The idea of the author in thus presenting the two languages in dialogue form was a happy one, and will be as good a study for the Yankee as the Frenchman. The two languages are presented on alternate pages line for line, and create equal interest." — San Jose Mercury.

SHORT STUDIES OF AMERICAN AUTHORS

By THOMAS WENTWORTH HIGGINSON. 50 cents.

"Colonel Higginson is an author, essayist, critic, and historian of marked ability, but in none of his works does he appear to greater advantage than in these graceful and documentary sketches. "An invaluable little manual for an active lad, or indeed for anybody with limber joints and a taste for out-of-door amusements is Manton's "Insects." It tells what outfit the amateur bug-hunter should supply himself with, how he should treat his specimens when he captures them, and what he must do with them when he gets them home in order to preserve them in his cabinet. It is so beautifully written and illustrated that it makes the reviewer crave to lay hands on a net once more and sally forth into the fields." — Syracuse Herald.

It instructs in the art of using the instrument, and shows how objects can be prepared for examination. Its simplicity is very valuable, and the young student will receive hints which will lead the way to the use of larger treatises. We commend it heartily to those who are beginning to study closely God's works in the world of nature." — Christian Intelligencer.

EXERCISES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF THE SENSES

For Young Children By HORACE GRANT Edited by Willard Small. 50 cents.

"These exercises were prepared for the purpose of providing instruction and amusement for children who are too young to learn to read and write. Their special object is to excite little children to examine surrounding objects correctly, so that valuable knowledge may be acquired, while the attention, memory, judgment, and invention are duly exercised. They consist of questions on familiar objects, concerning the senses and the body. There is a list of games given for young people." — Literary News.

HINTS ON LANGUAGE

In connection with Sight Reading and Writing in Primary and Intermediate Schools By S. ARTHUR BENT, A. M., Superintendent of the Public Schools of Clinton, Mass. 50 cts.

"The book, like all other published works of Mr. Bent, shows preparatory thought on the subject treated, and care in every line of the composition. He takes up 'sight reading and writing in connection with primary and intermediate schools,' and discusses every feature of the subject in such a plain and forcible way, giving more than a thousand valuable hints, that the work is not only attractive to the general reader, but of incalculable value to the professional educator. — Nashua Telegraph.

FIVE-MINUTE DECLAMATIONS

For School and College Selected and adapted by WALTER K. FOBES, Teacher of Elocution and Public Reader, author of "Elocution Simplified," etc. 50 cents.

"It comprises one hundred selections, not one of which requires over five minutes in declaiming. The selections are made from orations, speeches, and sermons with fine judgment, and with an eye to bringing out feeling, passion, fire, etc. Each selection has been subjected to the test of reading aloud, and is a declamation in the proper sense of the term." — Home Journal.

FIVE-MINUTE RECITATIONS

For School and College Selected and adapted by WALTER K. FOBES, Elocutionist and Public Reader. 50 cents.

"The title of this book explains itself. Any selection in it can be recited in five minutes, and in this respect it is unique. Mr. Fobes's experience has enabled him to make the book a valuable collection of prose and poetry, which every schoolboy would do well to purchase. It must meet with hearty public approval." — New Bedford Standard.

FIVE-MINUTE READINGS

For Young Ladies Edited by WALTER K. FOBES. Uniform with "Five-Minute Declamations" and "Five-Minute Recitations." 50 cents.

"This volume evinces general reading and good taste in the author. It differs from some of its class in that many of the selections are from modern authors. We do not see why readings that are suitable for girls should not, generally, be adapted to boys also. Yet the title is a good 'catch.' The selections are among the most chaste and elegant in the language." — Journal and Messenger.

FORGOTTEN MEANINGS

Or, An Hour with a Dictionary By ALFRED WAITES, author of "The Historical Student's Manual." 50 cents.

"A valuable little book, embracing a collection of words whose etymology, when rightly understood, is full of instruction. The origin of words is an interesting study, and to those of an analytic turn of mind this little volume will prove a perfect treasure-house, and increase their interest in the subject." — Christian at Work.

EDUCATIONAL PSYCHOLOGY

A Treatise for Parents and Educators By LOUISA PARSONS HOPKINS, author of "Handbook of the Earth," "Natural History Plays," etc. 50 cents.

"'Educational Psychology,' by Mrs. Louisa Parsons Hopkins, is the digest of a course of lectures given to the normal class of the Swain Free School in New Bedford, and is the result of long and attentive observation of mental phenomena and development, careful reading, and original thought. It is a compact volume, giving in condensed form a great amount of valuable matter. There is increasing call for works of this kind; and one so sound, clear, and complete as 'Educational Psychology' will be cordially welcomed by parents and teachers." — Cambridge Tribune.

THE NATION IN A NUTSHELL

A Rapid Outline of American History By GEORGE MAKEPEACE TOWLE, author of "Young People's History of England," "Young People's History of Ireland," etc. 50 cents.

"It begins with an account of the earliest known or supposed inhabitants of our continent; treats briefly but clearly of the eras of colonization and colonial growth; describes the causes and rise of the Revolution, the formation of the Constitution and government, the Presidents, the wars of 1812 and Mexico, and the Civil War; and brings the record of events down to the present day. It has also chapters on our growth in literature, the arts and sciences, material interests and inventions, and on the political changes which have taken place in recent years. It is intended for such readers as desire, by a rapid glance, to survey the main features and landmarks of American history, and who have not the time to peruse the more comprehensible histories." — New Bedford Mercury.

MISTAKES IN WRITING ENGLISH AND HOW TO AVOID THEM

For the Use of all who teach, write, or speak the Language By MARSHALL T. BIGELOW, Author of "Punctuation and other Typographical Matters." 50 cents.

"This is one of the most practical and systematic books in its kind that has as yet appeared. It is particularly commendable in avoiding the chance arrangement of matter which has so confusingly characterized other guides devoted to the same subject. Here everything is set forth in proper order, and reference is aided by the admirable grouping of the various sources of error under appropriate headings. This little volume will be found a serviceable friend on the library table of every writer." — Sat. Evening Gazette.

WARRINGTON'S MANUAL

Handbook of Legislative Practice for the Guidance of Public Meetings By WM. S. ROBINSON ("Warrington"). 50 cents.

Mr. Robinson was for a long series of years the Clerk of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, and was an authority on parliamentary law and tactics during that time. This manual will be found of inestimable value to all presiding officers, either of the ward and town meeting or the legislative assembly.

WHIRLWINDS, CYCLONES, AND TORNADOES

By WILLIAM MORRIS DAVIS, Instructor in Harvard College. Illustrated. 50 cents.

"The best general view of the science in the English language." — Nation.

"The substance of this treatise formed the basis of a course of lectures at Lowell Institute last year. Cuts, diagrams, and charts illustrate the text; and the whole subject, which recent calamities have made so intensely interesting to us of the United States, is treated very lucidly on the basis of facts, and of the best and latest scientific speculation." — Buffalo Express.

BRIDGE DISASTERS IN AMERICA

The Cause and the Remedy By Prof. George L. Vose. Author of "Manual for Railroad Engineers and Engineering Students," etc., etc. 50 cents.

"How to ensure the safety of bridges and to prevent loss of life by those who pass over them, surely ought to be a question of most vital interest, and Prof. Vose's thorough knowledge of the subject enables him to give a practical solution of the problem. It is a book that should be carefully read by all and especially by those who are in any way responsible for the maintenance or construction of bridges. He demonstrates that bridges can be constructed in such manner as to prevent the disasters which are repeatedly occurring, and that ignorance, shortsightedness and criminal negligence are alone responsible for the large loss of life in recent years on account of faultily constructed bridges."—Springfield Union.

HINTS ON WRITING AND SPEECH-MAKING

By Thomas Wentworth Higginson. Author of "Young Folks' History of United States," "Atlantic Essays," "Oldport Days," "Short Studies from American Authors." 50 cents.

The following from the author's Preface shows the purpose of this volume: —

"The first of these two chapters appeared long since in the 'Atlantic Monthly,' and was afterwards included in the author's volume entitled 'Atlantic Essays.' Teachers have several times urged that it should be reprinted as a little manual of literary composition; and I have indeed seen it used for that purpose in a college classroom. Now that similar suggestions are beginning to come in respecting the other brief essay, 'Hints on Speech-making,' it has seemed well to present the two together in a small volume. The last-named paper appeared first in 'Harper's Magazine' for November, 1886; and it is here reprinted with the consent of the publishers."

A FEW THOUGHTS FOR A YOUNG MAN

By Horace Mann. A new edition. 50 cents.

"This volume is full of the wisest counsel, given in very attractive and winning language, which is embellished with sparkling wit and interesting anecdote. It is a rare little book, by an eminent author, and is worthy of a place in every household. The treatise has been so often sought after by the general public, that it is again republished in its original form. The late Mrs. Mann, who wrote the preface to her husband's book, says, 'Nothing the author ever wrote has been so universally popular.'"

HANDBOOK OF DEBATE

Including a debate upon the Character of Julius Caesar. Adapted from J. Sheridan Knowles. Arranged for practice in Speaking, for Debating Clubs, and Classes in Public and Private Schools. With Notes for the Forming and Guidance of Debating Societies, and a list of subjects for debate. 50 cents.

"This work may be considered a model worthy to be adopted for use in societies and clubs organized to cultivate powers of elocution and oratory, and to teach the art of skilful debate, the knowledge of which enables the possessor to wield great influence in public and deliberative assemblies. As a ready handbook for debating societies' use it is unequalled."

ENGLISH SYNONYMS DISCRIMINATED

By Richard Whately, D. D., Archbishop of Dublin. A new edition. 50 cents.

While especially adapted to the use of writers and those who desire to express themselves in exact and discriminating terms, this book will be of interest to every one who may wish to gain more precision in the use of our language. In compiling this valuable work, the accomplished author has departed from the customary methods, and has not contented himself with giving merely the apparent synonyms in the language, but elaborates on the nice distinction in the meaning of common words, usually considered synonymous terms. In this feature consists the especial importance of Dr. Whately's volume.

PRIMARY LESSONS IN ZOÖLOGY TEACHING

For Teachers in Common Schools. By Walter P. Manton, M. D., F. R. M. S., F. Z. S. Author of "Field Botany," "Insects," "Taxidermy." Beginnings with the Microscope.

This work is full of suggestions to teachers as to topics and methods in presenting this subject to beginners. It contains nine essays, full of valuable practical ideas for teachers. The subjects treated are: equipment; general characteristics of an animal; the bones; the muscles; the blood; respiration; digestion; the brain and nerves. The author has wisely disregarded the exact order of the scientist, realizing that he has to interest beginners and teach them to observe. His directions are clear and simple, and in the hands of a good teacher the plan he outlines would be eminently inspiring.

ORTHOGRAPHY.

An inspection of the literary productions of this country will show that in the standard works, the magazines, the daily papers, the spelling is based upon Worcester as the Standard. The truth of this statement is proved by the following quotations from the field of standard and current literature. The words in italics are those wherein the dictionaries differ, and are spelled according to Worcester.

THE FIELD OF STANDARD LITERATURE.

Every edition of Longfellow, Emerson, Holmes, Bryant, Lowell, Whittier, Hawthorne, Cooper, Irving, and other eminent American authors, follows Worcester. "It presents the usage of all great English writers of the country."

Emerson's Letters and Social Aims. Published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

"Words used in a new sense and figuratively, dart a delightful lustre."

"Poetry begins, or all becomes poetry, when we look from the centre outward, and are using all as if the mind made it."

Longfellow's Poems. Household Edition. Published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

Page 37.

"The vine still clings to the mouldering wall,
But at every gust the dead leaves fall."

Page 40.

"A traveller, by the faithful hound,
Half buried in the snow was found."

Porter's "The Human Intellect." By NOAH PORTER, Ex-Pres. Yale College; Editor of Webster's Dictionary. Published by Charles Scribner's Sons.

Page 163.

"A sphere may be so skilfully painted in fresco on a flat surface, that we actually take it to be a sphere in fact. We often seem to see projecting statues, graduated mouldings, depressed panels, receding corridors, vaulted domes; and yet, as we approach, we find only a plane surface."

Page 165.

"Give the practised eye an assurance that its distances are correctly taken, and it will measure and judge with marvellous accuracy."

THE FIELD OF CURRENT LITERATURE.

Many publishing houses, which for a time adopted its rival, have now gone over to Worcester. The same is true of the leading magazines and newspapers. The Harper's Magazine, Weekly, New York Tribune, Herald, Times, World, Post, Sun, Independent, Nation; the Boston Advertiser, Transcript, Herald, Globe; Philadelphia Ledger, and other leading papers all over the country now use the word-forms presented by Worcester.

From the New York World.—"The office of a Dictionary is, of course, not to make innovations, but simply to register the best usage in spelling and pronunciation. This Worcester does, and this its rival conspicuously fails to do."

CURTIN'S IRISH FOLK LORE. Myths and Folk Lore of Ireland. By JEREMIAH CURTIN. With etched frontispiece. 12mo, cloth, gilt top, $2.00.

It is believed that this volume is the most valuable contribution which has ever been made to Irish folk-lore. The myth tales it includes were collected personally by the author, during 1887, in the west of Ireland, in Kerry, Galway, and Donegal, and taken down from the mouths of men who, with one or two exceptions, spoke only Gaelic, or but little English, and that imperfectly.

To this is due the fact that the stories are so well preserved, and not blurred and rendered indistinct, as is the case in places where the ancient Gaelic language, in which they were originally told, has perished.

Mr. Curtin is the first to give to the public a volume of Irish popular tales which may justly be ranked with the best recent collections of popular tales in Germany, France, and Italy. . . A delightful book alike for the scholar and general reader. — The Nation.

I have now read the whole of your "Irish Myths," with perhaps one exception, and I compliment you most heartily upon the book. It is wonderfully fresh and suggestive, and in the mere capacity of a lot of fairy stories, it ought to have a big circulation. Fin MacCool and the Fenians of Erin were great fellows anyway. — Charles A. Dana.

A more thoroughly delightful book has not come to hand for many a long day. Its tales have, in the first place, the genuine ring of original myths, the true ring of folk lore, that indescribable naïveté, which is as charming as it is inimitable. — Boston Courier.

The work of the collector is not only performed faithfully, but with such intelligence that the stories have a value in literature worthy of being added to the Norse sagas and other tales of wild adventure and myths. — Boston Journal.

CURTIN'S RUSSIAN FOLK TALES. Myths and Folk Tales of the Russians, Western Slavs, and Magyars. By JEREMIAH CURTIN. Crown 8vo, cloth, gilt top, $2.00.

DUMAS' MARIE ANTOINETTE ROMANCES. This remarkable series of novels comprises the following works by ALEXANDRE DUMAS, carefully edited, and now first published in English, complete and unabridged, uniform with the Library Editions of "The D'Artagnan Romances," and other works by the famous writer, which have proved so successful during the past two seasons.

I. THE MEMOIRS OF A PHYSICIAN. 3 vols., 12mo, cloth, gilt top, $4.50.

II. THE QUEEN'S NECKLACE. 2 vols., 12mo, cloth, gilt top, $3.00.

III. ANGE PITOU. 2 vols., 12mo, cloth, gilt top, $3.00.

This romance includes the narrative of the taking of the Bastile.

IV. LA COMTESSE DE CHARNY. 4 vols., 12mo, cloth, gilt top, $6.00.

This work includes what has hitherto been published in English, under the title of "The Countess of Charny," and "Andrée de Taverney." It is now published just as Dumas wrote it, unabridged and correctly rendered.

V. CHEVALIER DE MAISON-ROUGE. 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, gilt top, $1.50.

The complete set, 12 vols., 12mo, cloth, gilt top, $18.00.
Half calf, extra, gilt top, $36.00; half morocco, extra, gilt top, $36.00.

This may fairly be claimed to be one of the most important as well as most entertaining series of the famous romances of the elder Dumas. Beginning, in "The Memoirs of a Physician" (Joseph Balsamo, afterwards known as Cagliostro), with the entrance of Marie Antoinette, the Dauphiness, into France, the successive works trace her career through the last days of the reign of Louis XV., and throughout the French Revolution, closing with her death. The characters introduced are the most celebrated men and women of the time, including Louis XV., Louis XVI., Madame du Barry, Cagliostro, Duc de Richelieu, Mirabeau, Danton, Marat, Robespierre, Lafayette, Simon the Executioner, the Princess Elizabeth, the Dauphin, the Princess de Lamballe, De Launay, Governor of the Bastile, etc. The comedy element of the famous author, so important a part of "The Three Musketeers" and its companion works of "The D'Artagnan Romances," is not lacking in these stories, one of the most characteristic of the creations of Dumas being the rustic "Ange Pitou." The series is illustrated with twelve historical portraits and plates, including Louis XV.; Louis XVI.; Marie Antoinette; The Taking of the Bastile; The famous Necklace; Cagliostro; Mirabeau; The Princess Elizabeth; The Princess Lamballe; Louis XVI., Marie Antoinette, and the Dauphin; and Marie Antoinette going to Execution.

Those who have found entertainment of the most varied and delightful sort in the pages of Alexandre Dumas, have long been confident of a renaissance of his fame in this country. Dumas is, by common consent, the prince of story-tellers. He deserves the title which Mr. Lang has recently conferred upon him of "Alexander the Great." — Christian Union.

This model library edition will delight the fastidious book-buyer — The Dial.

The books are a miracle of combined elegance and cheapness. — Boston Courier.

These wonderful romances have now for the first time been put into elegant library form, and will take their place on the library shelf, side by side with the works of Hugo, which they rival in interest, ingenuity of construction, and pure literary merit. — Boston Transcript.

Dumas never forgets to make his men and women, as well as their entourage, live and breathe. — The Critic.

The Dumas Romances are offered in flawless style, beautifully printed, prettily bound, and fit for the library. . . . The volumes being handy, and not too heavy, handsome, and a delight to one's eyes and touch. — Literary World.

KENDAL'S DRAMATIC OPINIONS. Dramatic Opinions. By Mrs. KENDAL. 16mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, gilt top, with portrait of Mrs. Kendal, $1.00.

The extraordinary professional and personal success which the author has met with in this country will undoubtedly create an extensive demand for her views upon theatrical subjects; and every one who examines her book will discover in her writing the same sound sense, genuine feeling, and unaffected expression, which have been witnessed in her performances upon the stage. — New York Sun.

There can be no doubt of the heartiness of the welcome with which Mrs. Kendal's little volume of "Dramatic Opinions" will be received in this country, where she has made so many personal friends as well as so many admirers of her acting. . . . Mrs. Kendal writes with a freshness and frankness which are very pleasing; and as she has lived on the stage all her life long, there is no lack of familiarity with her subject. . . . The whole book, without being great or making any pretence of going very deep, is thoroughly entertaining, and it is also suggestive and instructive. — Boston Courier.

Its contents are as interesting as its appearance is beautiful. It is in fact the best book of the kind that has appeared since Anna Cora Mowatt issued her "Autobiography of an Actress." — Washington National Republican.

Doubtless many readers will be glad to possess the "Dramatic Opinions" of the charming actress in their entirety. — Philadelphia Press.

It is written in a chatty, agreeable style, with an autobiographical flavor, and contains entertaining anecdotes of noted actors and actresses. Mrs. Kendal's long experience on the stage gives weight to her judgment of theatrical matters, and she disarms criticism by the modest way in which this is expressed. — The Critic.

The opinions of Mrs. Kendal will be widely read, and they will be read with interest and pleasure. — New York Tribune

Likely to have many readers. — Boston Daily Advertiser.

MAHAN'S INFLUENCE OF SEA-POWER UPON HISTORY.

The Influence of Sea-Power upon History. 1660–1783. By Captain A. T. MAHAN, U. S. Navy. With 25 charts illustrative of great naval battles. 8vo, cloth, gilt top, $4.00.

The object of this work is an examination of the general history of Europe and America, with special reference to the effect of sea-power upon the course of that history. The author points out in his preface that "historians generally have been unfamiliar with the conditions of the sea, . . . and the profound determining influence of maritime strength upon great issues has generally been overlooked." The period embraced is from 1660, "when the sailing-ship era with its distinctive features had fairly begun," to the end of the American Revolution. The use of technical language has been avoided, in order to bring the work within the comprehension of the unprofessional reader.

Particular care has been taken to insure an accurate and critical narrative of the naval campaigns connected with the American Revolutionary War. The struggle for American Independence gave rise to the greatest, most extensive, and protracted naval war of modern times, illustrated by numerous naval battles in different parts of the world. . . . More than one half of the historical narrative is devoted to that war.

A short popular discussion of the elementary conditions which conduce to national greatness at sea precedes the historical narrative. [The conditions, dangers, and interests of the United States are kept in view throughout.]

Captain Mahan, by this remarkable and novel work, steps into the ranks of American historians. . . . His book is at once a lesson in government and a fascinating literary study. — Philadelphia Bulletin.

The work is a pioneer one in many respects, and is one that cannot fail to arouse a wide-spread interest among naval and military authorities and those who are in any way interested in international affairs. The style of the book is clear and interesting. — Boston Traveller.

From all points of view the book is an able one, and the only one in existence which covers the ground completely and adequately. — Boston Transcript.

Captain Mahan's book should be read by all who are interested in the development of the navy, and who believe in the importance of the navy as the principal factor of defence. . . . The path that this country should follow is clearly enough pointed out by the experience of other nations and of our own past, if men could only see it: and Captain Mahan's book, if carefully read, will do a great deal toward enlightening the public mind on this important subject. — C. H. Davis, Commander and Chief Intelligence Officer, U. S. N.

The questions which it discusses are of grave importance to the people of the United States in many ways, and their dispassionate treatment by a naval officer of distinction should cause more serious attention to be paid to them. . . The conception of the work was original. Its execution has been extremely able. It is an honor to the author, and to the United States Navy he so well represents, and it must be received everywhere as a most important and seasonable contribution to history, from a direction hitherto virtually unexplored. — New York Tribune.

RUBINSTEIN'S AUTOBIOGRAPHY. Autobiography of Anton Rubinstein, 1829–1889. Translated by ALINE DELANO. With etched portrait. 16mo, cloth, $1.25.

On the 18th of November, 1889, Russia celebrated the Jubilee of her greatest living pianist and composer, Anton Rubinstein. Although from time to time various articles and criticisms on the life and works of the famous musician have been published, the biographical details, often inaccurate, possessed little or no value. It is a well-known fact that Rubinstein has always shown a reluctance to talk about himself or about his musical career. The idea suggested itself that it would be well to ask him to contribute materials for a brief biography. Having gained his consent, a stenographer was engaged to take down from the musician's own lips the story of his life. These notes were afterwards read to Rubinstein, and corrected under his supervision. We are all familiar with his activity during these latter years. Von Bulow once called him the Michael Angelo of music; and Rubinstein has said of himself, "I play as a musician, not as a virtuoso." It is this very sincerity that has won for him an exclusive position among the pianists of the world. When beneath his fingers the piano alternately sings like a human voice, or thunders with all the force of an orchestra, it is not easy to realize the limited compass of the instrument. The accounts of the enthusiasm aroused by his playing seem almost fabulous. In Spain and in Italy he was cheered in the streets. His first appearance in America marks a new era in its musical history. In all the great cities of Europe the crowds that collected around the ticket-offices, even when fourteen successive concerts had been announced, were so great as to require the presence of the police to preserve order. Among the delighted audiences of St. Petersburg and Moscow who enjoyed the privilege of listening to his historical concerts, no true lover of music can have failed to appreciate that educational significance which lent to them a double value. His programmes were, for the most part, made up from the noted works of the great European composers, and his lectures on the history of piano-playing, illustrated as they were by his own incomparable rendering of the masterpieces of every land, won universal admiration. The Russian people can never forget its debt of gratitude to the famous composer, philanthropist, and patriot; and if illustrious men be the chief jewels in a nation's crown, then Russia may well be proud to claim him as her own whose name will stand inscribed among the foremost in the history of Russian music of the nineteenth century.

The supplement consists largely of what may be called the echoes of musical criticism. They are taken partly from the Russian journals and partly from a pamphlet printed on the occasion of the Rubinstein Jubilee, an event celebrated by all classes of the vast Russian empire. — Translator's Preface.

THE BLIND MUSICIAN. The Blind Musician. Translated from the Russian of VLADIMIR KOROLENKO by ALINE DELANO. With Introduction by GEORGE KENNAN and Illustrations by Edmund H. Garrett. 16mo, cloth, gilt top, $1.25.

In this sketch, called by Korolenko "a psychological study," the author has attempted to analyze the inner life of the blind. He has undertaken to lay before the reader, not only the psychological processes in the mind of the blind, but their suffering from the lack of sight as well, uncomplicated by any untoward circumstances. To accomplish this he has placed his hero in most favorable, nay, almost exceptional conditions. The subjects for this study are a blind girl, whom the author had known as a child; a boy, a pupil of his,

who was gradually losing his sight; and a professional musician, blind from his birth, intellectually gifted, scholarly, and refined. "May this simple story, written from the heart, reach the heart of him who reads it!" — Translator's Preface.

CONTENTS. — Introduction. I. The Blind Infant. — The Family. II. The Sources of Musical Feeling. — The Blind Boy and the Melody. III. The First Friendship. IV. Blindness. — Vague Questions. V. Love. VI. The Crisis. — An Attempt at Synthesis. VII. Intuition. Epilogue.

It affords me great pleasure to link my name with that of Vladimir Korolenko, by writing a few words in the form of an introduction to the translation of that gifted young author's "Blind Musician," which is now to appear for the first time in English. . . . — George Kennan.

I take great pleasure in being able to say that the story, although very simple both in form and substance, is conceived and elaborated with a masterly skill. It is ingenious in construction, artistic in execution, and full of imaginative vigor. The author shows a keen appreciation of what is charming and beautiful in Nature and a fine power of analysis. — M. Anagnos, of the Perkins Institution for the Blind.

"The Blind Musician" shows Korolenko's talent in quite a new light. It is above all a psychological story, the interest being focused upon one individual, — the blind boy, who afterwards becomes a musician. It was a bold venture on the author's part to undertake to render comprehensible an inward life so exceptional and so different from our own. But all those who read this touching story will agree that he has succeeded marvellously. We cannot say by what wonder of intuition he came to know all he tells us about the inward life of this extraordinary boy; but we feel that all that he says is true, which is the great triumph of art. — Stepniak.

WITH FIRE AND SWORD. With Fire and Sword. An Historical Novel of Poland and Russia. By HENRYK SIENKIEWICZ. Translated from the original by JEREMIAH CURTIN. Crown 8vo, cloth, 795 pages, $2.00.

An entirely new novel of great interest and power, from the Polish, now first translated. It is attracting great attention and is universally praised by the press.

WHAT IS SAID OF IT.

A capital story. The only modern romance with which it can be compared for fire, sprightliness, rapidity of action, swift changes, and absorbing interest, is the "Three Musketeers" of Dumas — New York Tribune.

A great novel. He exhibits the sustained power and sweep of narrative of Walter Scott, and the humor of Cervantes. A greater novelist than Tolstoï. — Philadelphia Inquirer.

Altogether uncommon, . . . one of the noblest works of historical romance ever written in any language, and it has been done into English by the hand of a master. — The Pilot.

One of the most brilliant historical novels ever written. . . . A story of chivalry, of heroism, of romance, and of devotion. — Christian Union.

A tremendous work in subject, size, and treatment. It is refreshing in these days of pastels in prose and novels without incident, to come upon one so full of life and vigor, where man, like Nature, is on a great and wide scale, and where the passions are as frank as they are fresh. — Providence Journal.

Abounds in all kinds of military adventure, and although less impressive than "War and Peace," is more continuously brilliant and readable. — Boston Post.

The setting of the story is wonderful in its strength and picturesqueness. . . . The character-drawing is admirable. — Boston Courier.

The first of Polish novelists, past or present, and second to none now living in England, France, or Germany. He has Dumas's facility for conceiving and carrying out a complicated historical romance; he has much of Bret Harte's dry humor and laconic pathos, and a good deal of Turgenieff's melancholy suggestiveness, with some of his delicacy of touch. — Blackwood's Magazine.

Longmans' School Geography for North America.—By GEORGE G. CHISHOLM, M.A., and C. H. LEETE, B.A., Fellow of the American Geographical Society. Large, 12mo, 384 pages. With 70 illustrations. $1.25*

In Longmans' School Geography an attempt is made at a new departure in the teaching of Geography by providing a text-book which is founded on the results and methods following from the great advance which has taken place in Geographical Science and Teaching on the Continent, and especially in Germany. The aim of the author has been to exclude from the book almost all details which pupils cannot be expected to keep permanently in mind, but to take care that what the book does contain should consist of what is most effective as discipline, and of most importance to know. In the American edition, prepared by Mr. Leete, the portions on America in general, North America, and the United States have been newly written. The other parts have been changed but little, though alterations and adaptations have been made wherever they seemed called for by the fact that American instead of English or Australian pupils were to be the readers.

Part II. is a continuation (not in large measure a repetition) of Part I. The two books comprise a complete course for primary and grammar schools, and the total cost is but 70 cents.

ABBOTT. Alexia. By Mary Abbott. 12mo, 177 pages, 75 cents.

A remarkably fresh, vigorous, and sweet little story. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

As a piece of exquisite literary art, this little book deserves the attention of those who can appreciate what is unsophisticated in fiction. . . . Little books like this — unpretentious, honest in motive, pure in sentiment, and marked by true sympathy — are not common in current American literature, and therefore appeal all the more strongly to people who are tired of the didactic, and so relish keenly any representation which depends for its final effect, not on preconceived notions of the author, but on fidelity to life. — The Beacon, Boston.

ARNOLD. The Life of Abraham Lincoln. By the Hon. Isaac N. Arnold. With steel portrait. 8vo, gilt top, 471 pages, $2.50; half calf, $4.75; half morocco, $5.00.

It is the only Life of Lincoln thus far published that is likely to live, — the only one that has any serious pretensions to depict him with adequate veracity, completeness, and dignity. — The Sun, New York.

The book is particularly rich in incidents connected with the early career of Mr. Lincoln; and it is without exception the most satisfactory record of his life that has yet been written. Readers will also find that in its entirety it is a work of absorbing and enduring interest that will enchain the attention more effectually than any novel. — Magazine of American History, New York.

ARNOLD. The Life of Benedict Arnold; His Patriotism and his Treason. By the Hon. Isaac N. Arnold. With steel portrait. 8vo, 444 pages, $2.50.

Mr. Arnold has accomplished his task wonderfully well. There is a striking absence of personal bias; and if he has succeeded in removing some of the blots upon the character of Benedict Arnold, the impartial reader cannot but think that he is justified, and respect him for his denunciation of treason while he mentions that the traitor was a man and possessed at one time of a noble character. The book is chiefly notable for the range of historical information displayed. The author supports his opinions by letters and documents whose truthfulness cannot be impugned. — The Traveller, Boston.

ATWOOD. Martha Corey: A Tale of the Salem Witchcraft. By Convers Atwood. (In press.)

This work is a felicitous illustration of the adaptability of American historical material to the purposes of romantic fiction. Its background is the dark and gloomy period of the Witchcraft persecution in America, of which it furnishes a complete and very striking picture. It is the same material drawn upon by Longfellow for his "New England Tragedies;" but is here presented with greater fulness, and with no less historical exactitude. The story is one of thrilling interest, and shows a literary power that must rank its author high among the writers of historical romance.

BACON. Essays by Francis Bacon, Viscount St. Albans, Baron Verulam. Edited, with a Biographical and Critical Introduction and New Notes, by Prof. Melville B. Anderson. Finely printed and bound. 16mo, gilt top, $1.00; half calf or half morocco, $2.75.

BALDWIN. The Book-Lover: A Guide to the Best Reading. By James Baldwin, Ph.D. 16mo, gilt top, 222 pages, $1.00; half calf or half morocco, $2.75.

If a man needs that the love of books be cultivated within him, such a gem of a book as Dr. Baldwin's ought to do the work. Perfect and inviting in all that a book ought outwardly to be, its contents are such as to instruct the mind at the same time that they arouse the taste; and the reader who goes through its 222 pages ought not only to love books in general better than he did before, but to love them more wisely, more intelligently, more discriminatingly, and with more profit to his own soul. — The Literary World, Boston.

BARRON. The Viking. By Elwyn A. Barron. 12mo, gilt top, 141 pages, $1.00.

As the title imports, it is a tale of the Norseland thrown into dramatic form. It is well written, the imagery is bold and effective, and the characters are vigorously drawn. . . . The book is well worth reading, and betrays a scholarly and enthusiastic spirit on the part of the author. — Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

BAZAN. Russia: Its People and its Literature. By Emilia Pardo Bazan. Translated from the Spanish by Fanny Hale Gardiner. 12mo, 293 pages, $1.25.

This is a brilliant book, presenting in a masterly style a picture of Russia as it is, notably in its social conditions, of which a searching and remarkably edifying analysis is given. . . . The chief interest of the work lies in its discourse upon the literature of the country. . . . It is as a profound critic of the fiction of Russia that the author has achieved her best success in this exceedingly attractive book; and it is in this aspect that it will be found most valuable and most instructive. The style is exceptionally spirited, strong, and original, and gives to the volume an interest of its own, independently of the fine skill which is brought to bear upon the discussion of the characteristic merits and faults of the literature with which the work deals. We cannot recall any writer who has treated the subject as ably and as exhaustively as has the author of this wholly admirable book, which may be heartily commended to all readers of cultivated literary tastes. — Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

BIART. The Aztecs: Their History, Manners, and Customs. By Lucien Biart. Translated from the French by J. L. Garner. Illustrated. 8vo, 343 pages, $2.00.

The twilight origin of the present race is graphically presented; those strange people whose traces have almost vanished from off the face of the earth again live before us. Their taxes and tributes, their marriage ceremonies, their burial customs, laws, medicines, food, poetry, and dances are described. . . . The book is a very interesting one, and is brought out with copious illustrations. — The Traveller, Boston.

BIGOT. A Foreign Match. By Madame Bigot (Mary Healy). 16mo, 246 pages, $1.00.

The author writes charmingly. . . . The story is well constructed, its detail is thoroughly good, and the characters deftly drawn. — Boston Daily Advertiser.

Few stories of the experience of vulgar American families abroad have been better managed in fiction than this. The people are much like those which Mr. Henry James has carried through many books. . . . The secondary characters are well managed, and the reader is made to understand throughout how despicable is the common person made suddenly rich. — The New York Herald.

BOISSIER. Madame De Sévigné. By Gaston Boissier, of the French Academy. The Great French Writers. Translated by Prof. Melville B. Anderson. 12mo, 205 pages, $1.00.

M. Boissier plunges at once into his task, and a most charming essay is the result. On the first page you are shown a brilliant young woman with golden hair and a radiant complexion, and are told that this is Madame De Sévigné. A moment later you are admitted as a privileged visitor to her salon, and the time is very short indeed before you feel yourself one of its intimates. And what delightful people you are thrown with there! . . . When you have finished this delightful essay . . . you certainly have a clearer picture of her in your mind, and of the times, too, and the people by whom she was surrounded. — The Critic, New York.

BROWNE. Golden Poems. By British and American Authors. Edited by Francis F. Browne. Crown 8vo, 464 pages, full gilt, gilt edges, in box, $1.75.

A book to delight the eye and warm the heart and strengthen the intellect. This large, handsomely bound volume contains a larger amount of true poetic thought than we have ever seen gathered together in equal compass. — The Golden Rule.

I have taken pains to examine with some care your "Golden Poems." I am charmed to see how well you have proved that there was room for still another volume of poetical selections. I shall keep your book hereafter within reach; for it is pleasant to see, easy to hold, and refreshing to read. — Prof. Moses Coit Tyler, in letter to Editor.

BUNYAN. The Pilgrim's Progress. By John Bunyan. With portrait of Bunyan, and 140 illustrations by Gordon Browne. 12mo, gilt edges, illuminated cloth covers, $1.00.

This edition of the "Pilgrim's Progress" is well printed in clear type on fine toned paper, has gilt edges, and very attractive cover. The illustrations, by Gordon Browne, are admirably done, and are of a character seldom found in a book of so moderate a price. Altogether it is without doubt the best edition of the celebrated allegory which is now accessible at the low price of one dollar.

CARO. George Sand. By E. Caro, of the French Academy. The Great French Writers. Translated by Prof. Melville B. Anderson. 12mo, 235 pages, $1.00.

A more interesting character is not to be found in all biography. Happily for the reader M. Caro is an uninfatuated biographer. Calm, refined, acute, he lays no imputation upon her character; he applies to her works the test of sound sense. . . . He does not rhapsodize. He does not idealize. He is practical, rational, and just. . . . The volume never flags in interest, and may be read with advantage, as it certainly will be with constant gratification. — The Chicago Tribune.

CARPENTER. Round about Rio: Descriptions of the Brazilian Capital and Vicinity. By Frank D. Y. Carpenter. 12mo, $1.25.

It recounts the adventures of young people in the neighborhood of Rio Janeiro, and it is full of information and life. It is a book which the thoughtful will read for information, and the young for its genuine fun. — The Christian Advocate, New York.

CATHERWOOD. The Story of Tonty: An Historical Romance. By Mary Hartwell Catherwood, author of "The Romance of Dollard." With 23 original illustrations by Enoch Ward. 12mo, 227 pages, $1.25.

"The Story of Tonty" is a powerful story by a writer newly sprung to fame. All the century we have been waiting for the deft hand that could put flesh upon the dry bones of our early heroes. Here is a recreation indeed. . . . No words are wasted, yet the matchless fidelity and fortitude of Tonty linger above all in the impression made by the stirring story. . . . One comes from the reading of the romance with a quickened interest in our early national history, and a profound admiration for the art that can so transport us to the dreamful realms where fancy is monarch of fact. — The Philadelphia Press.

CATON. A Summer in Norway. By the Hon. J. D. Caton, LL.D. Illustrated. New Edition. 8vo, 401 pages, $1.75.

The tone of the book is frank, almost colloquial, always communicative, and leaves a favorable impression both of the intelligence and good-nature with which the author pursued his way through unknown wilds. . . . They are excellent specimens of terse and graphic composition, presenting a distinct image to the mind without any superfluous details. — The New York Tribune.

CHESTERFIELD. Selected Letters from those written by the Earl of Chesterfield to his Son and his Godson. Edited, with an Introductory Essay, by Edward Gilpin Johnson. Finely printed and bound. 16mo, gilt top, $1.25; half calf or half morocco, $3.00.

CLARK. Witnesses to Christ: A Contribution to Christian Apologetics. By William Clark, M.A. The Baldwin Lectures. 12mo, 300 pages, $1.50.

Professor Clark sets forth clearly and learnedly the belief and grounds of belief of the modern Christian, showing the various phases of contemporaneous thought in their relation to the truth of the Gospel, and extorting testimonies to the power of the Cross "from foes as well as friends." The book is an admirable one, not only for its matter, but for its literary excellence. — The Mail, Toronto.

CLARK. Savonarola: His Life and Times. By William Clark, M.A. (In press.)

Fra Girolamo has had no fairer or more sympathetic biographer than the author of this volume. Every page of the book gives evidence of close and of far-reaching study, with the result of placing the august figure of Savonarola in an admirably clear and intelligible perspective. It is written in popular style, thoroughly explains the intricate political system of Florence in its transition state, gives sufficient of the lives of the prominent people to show their attitude towards the government and the Frate, and succeeds in presenting to the reader a well-rounded history of a man whose character will always be one of the most interesting in history to study. This book was originally published in England, and has been out of print for several years. The present edition has been entirely revised and partially rewritten by the author, and is printed from newly made plates.

COOK. The Standard Monitor; or, Freemason's Vade Mecum. Compiled by Edward Cook, Grand Examiner, Illinois. 32mo, leather, 40 cents; leather, tuck, gilt edges, 60 cents.

It supplies a want long felt in our jurisdiction; namely, a text-book that conforms to the standard work and Ritual as authorized by the Grand Lodge of Illinois. I cheerfully commend the useful and convenient little volume to the Craft throughout the State. — De Witt C. Cregier, Past Grand Master.

COX. Tales of Ancient Greece. By the Rev. Sir G. W. Cox, Bart., M.A., Trinity College, Oxford. 12mo, xliii and 372 pages, $1.25.

Admirable in style, and level with a child's comprehension. These versions might well find a place in every family. — The Nation, New York.

COXE. Institutes of Christian History: An Introduction to Historic Reading and Study. By the Rt. Rev. A. Cleveland Coxe, D.D., Bishop of Western New York. The Baldwin Lectures. 12mo, $1.00.

Only praise can be pronounced for these lectures. They are exceptionally excellent. In style clear, in matter full, and in argument cogent, they will be welcomed by every young scholar and by all real students as well. . . . To remind our readers that Bishop Coxe is the writer of it, and that he wrote it at his best, is to sum up our critical and conscientious valuation of the pages before us. — The Church Press, New York.

CUMNOCK. Choice Readings for Public and Private Entertainment. Arranged for the Exercises of the School, College, and Public Reader, with Elocutionary Advice. Edited by Robert McLean Cumnock, A.M., Professor of Rhetoric and Elocution, Northwestern University. Twentieth Edition. 12mo, 478 pages, $1.50.

Among the multitude of books issued for the same purpose during the past ten years, we know of none so complete in all respects, and so well fitted to the needs of the elocutionist, as the volume before us. — The Transcript, Boston.

As a reader, editor, and instructor in his department, Professor Cumnock has few equals and no superiors; and this book, the result of the combination of his forces, is unequalled by anything of the kind with which we are acquainted. — The Christian Advocate, New York.

CUMNOCK. School Speaker: Rhetorical Recitations for Boys and Girls. Edited by Robert McLean Cumnock, A.M. 12mo, 303 pages, 75 cents.

The selections made in this volume are from the best modern authors. They have been compiled with special reference to their adaptation as pieces for speaking, and also as, at the same time, illustrating the best juvenile literature of the day. — The Methodist, Baltimore.

DAVIS. Principles and Practice of Medicine. By Nathan Smith Davis, A.M., M.D., LL.D., Professor of the Principles and Practice of Medicine in the Chicago Medical College. 8vo, 896 pages, $5.00; sheep, $6.00.‡

This volume is unquestionably valuable, not only to the student, but to the practitioner of medicine. It bears the stamp on every page of a broad and ripe experience, and the exercise and intelligence of a vigorous intellect. It gives the results of a large clinical experience in such a practical form that it cannot fail to render valuable aid to the general practitioner.

We commend the work with our heartiest approval.— New England Medical Monthly.

DE RÉMUSAT. A. Thiers. By Paul de Rémusat, Senator. The Great French Writers. Translated by Prof. Melville B. Anderson. 12mo, 243 pages, $1.00.

"Thiers" is the latest addition to the very interesting and useful series of "Great French Writers." . . . This book, in its way, is a model of candor and disinterested criticism; and these qualities are especially noticeable because it deals with a man who has not always received this reasonable attention from his biographers. . . . In this busy and overworked age a biography at once so full and so condensed, so brief and yet so satisfactory, is a thing to be grateful for. — The Christian Union, New York.

The sketch of his life and personality is brilliant; and the little bourgeois, with his white cravat and broadcloth coat, the representative of all that is best and most solid in France, stands before the reader clearly, succinctly as if cut in marble. — Book-Chat, New York.

DIMOND. A Handbook for Pilgrims. Thoughts by the Way for Those who Journey through this Fair World on their Way to One still Fairer. Compiled by Mary B. Dimond. Square 16mo, paper, gilt edges, 82 pages, 50 cents.

The wayfarer, reading as he runs, will find many a word of refreshment and of stimulation to his flagging courage. The plan of arrangement is novel and pleasing. . . . Cover and all, it is like "apples of gold in baskets of silver." — The Advance, Chicago.

FARRAR. Eric; or, Little by Little. A Tale of Roslyn School. By Frederic W. Farrar, D.D., F.R.S., Canon of Westminster, etc. New Illustrated Edition. With 78 original designs by Gordon Browne. 12mo, 368 pages, gilt edges. (In press.)

The same wholesome, vigorous, manly spirit which has so firmly entrenched "Tom Brown at Rugby" in the heart of every real boy is found running through the pages of "Eric." It gives the life of a proud, bright, impetuous, self-willed boy at an English school, and was written, as the reverend, and now distinguished author, says in the preface to this the twenty-fourth edition, "with but one single object, — the vivid inculcation of inward purity and moral purpose by the history of a boy who, in spite of the inherent nobleness of his disposition, falls into all folly and wickedness, until he has learnt to seek help from above." The illustrations by Gordon Browne, of which there are seventy-eight, are particularly strong, the artist having admirably caught the spirit of the book, and reproduced it in the drawings in such a striking manner as to make them an exceedingly valuable addition to the text. It is well printed on tinted paper, strongly bound, with full gilt edges, and the cover is stamped with an attractive design in gilt.

FAY. Music-Study in Germany. By Miss Amy Fay. Eleventh Edition. 12mo, 352 pages, $1.25.

It reads like a novel. . . . Some of her criticisms and comparisons are uncommonly clever, and reveal a talent for characterizing artistic peculiarities which many a professional critic might envy. — The Nation, New York.

The intrinsic value of the work is great. Its simplicity, its minute details, its freedom from every kind of affectation, constitute in themselves most admirable qualities. The remarkably intimate and open picture we get of Liszt surpasses any heretofore afforded. It is a charming picture, — strong, simple, gracious, noble, and sincere. — The Chicago Times.

FRENCH WRITERS (The Great). Comprising: MADAME DE SÉVIGNÉ, by G. Boissier; GEORGE SAND, by E. Caro; MONTESQUIEU, by A. Sorel; VICTOR COUSIN, by Jules Simon; TURGOT, by L. Say; THIERS, by Paul de Rémusat. To be followed by VOLTAIRE, by F. Brunetière; RACINE, by A. France; LAMARTINE, by M. de Pomairols; SAINT-SIMON, by G. Boissier; MUSSET, by J. Lemaître; BALZAC, by P. Bourget, and others. 12mo, per volume, $1.00; half morocco, $2.50.

We urge upon all serious-minded people, who have a taste for historical biography and the leisure to cultivate it, a careful study of these essays on "Great French Writers," for they are models of vivacious and enlightened criticism. — The Beacon, Boston.

FRESNEAU. Theresa at San Domingo. From the French of Madame Fresneau. Illustrated. 12mo, 213 pages, $1.00.

The negro insurrection at San Domingo in 1789 has been commemorated in this capital story for children, by Madame Fresneau. It is written in that bright, entertaining way which children always like; and in addition to the vivid historic background there are given some excellent descriptions of life in the West Indies, and of their birds, animals, forests, etc. — The American Bookseller.

GERMAN (The). How to Give it; How to Lead it; How to Dance it. By two Amateur Leaders. 12mo, 132 pages, $1.00.

There is no point relating to "The German" that is not treated in this work which must become as necessary to the learners of that amusement as the "Cook's Own Book" to a successful table. — The New York Tribune.

GILBERT. The Poetry of Job. By George H. Gilbert, Ph.D. 12mo, 224 pages, $1.00.

It is truly delightful to get hold of a book like this, that helps one to enter into the beauties of the Book of Job, and to appreciate the literary excellence of this illustrious poem. The author gives not only a rhythmical translation, but also aims to give the particular rhythmical movement of the original. We must congratulate him on his marvellous success. . . . No student of this great poem will be content to be without this helpful book of Mr. Gilbert's. — The Living Church, Chicago.

The interpretation part of the book is a rich mine of helpful exegesis and comment. As a companion to the study of the Book of Job in the Revised Version, this volume is without rival or peer. — The Critic, New York.

GILCHRIST. A Manual for Infantry Officers of the National Guard. Compiled by Col. J. G. Gilchrist. 16mo, 163 pages, $1.00.

This little book is to be commended for the brevity and clearness of its several chapters, which undertake to compress into a small space all the essential information relative to the duties, uniform, etc., of an officer of the National Guard. A chapter is devoted to each officer of brigade, regiment, and company. The distribution of the great variety of information derived from regulations and tactics under these several heads has been done with much skill by Colonel Gilchrist. — Army and Navy Register, Washington.

GOLDSMITH. The Vicar of Wakefield. By Oliver Goldsmith. Laurel-Crowned Tales. 16mo, $1.00.

In choosing "The Vicar of Wakefield" as the fourth volume in the popular series of "Laurel-Crowned Tales," the publishers have the satisfaction of presenting this favorite English classic in a form that must be acceptable to all its old admirers, and win countless new ones among younger readers. The series has been received with the highest favor by the press and the public, and this volume must do much to extend this popularity. Other volumes will follow in due time.

GRISWOLD. The Home-Life of Great Authors. By Hattie Tyng Griswold. Large 12mo, 385 pages, $1.50; half calf or half morocco, gilt top, $3.50.

No such excellent collection of brief biographies of literary favorites has ever before appeared in this country. Mrs. Griswold's taste and discretion are as much to be admired as her industry in the composition of these delightful sketches. — The Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

The work is invested with a charm all its own. It indicates not only accomplished scholarship and exquisite literary taste, but also the distinctive literary sense of selection that chooses the valuable and the permanent from the unimportant and the transient. — The Traveller, Boston.

HARRIS. The Dignity of Man: Select Sermons by Samuel Smith Harris, D.D., LL.D., Late Bishop of Michigan. With a Memorial Address by the Rt. Rev. Henry C. Potter, D.D., LL.D., Bishop of New York; and an Introduction by the Hon. J. V. Campbell, LL.D., of Detroit. With portrait. 12mo, 266 pages, $1.50.

For the two brief memorial papers alone the volume would be a very valuable treasure; but as followed by this noble series of sermons it is indeed a possession for all well-endowed libraries. . . . These sermons are full of the practical bearing of Christianity upon the world's social and political progress. They are sermons of battle-strong words expressly meant for present and coming emergencies. They are the words of command and encouragement which skirt all the advancing line with the hope of victory and the joy of combat in a noble cause. — The Churchman.

HENDERSON. Practical Hints on Camping. By Howard Henderson. Illustrated. 12mo, 142 pages, $1.25.

It is especially valuable because it descends to the trifles which most writers think not worth mentioning, but which go so far toward making up the sum of happiness or misery of out-door life. — The Inquirer, Philadelphia.

HUGO. William Shakespeare. Translated from the French of Victor Hugo, by Prof. Melville B. Anderson, M.A. 8vo, 424 pages, $2.00; half calf or half morocco, gilt top, $4.00.

This volume is much more than a study of Shakespeare. All history, all theology, and all philosophy are grasped and handled with titanic force, the bard of Avon furnishing the text, or, as we should say, the pretext, for magnificent speculation. Why has this great work of Hugo's never before been Anglicized? — The Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

JACKSON. A Winter Holiday in Summer Lands. By Julia Newell Jackson. Illustrated. 16mo, 221 pages, $1.25.

It is a spirited and enjoyable narrative of travel in Cuba and Mexico. It is told without much fulness of detail; but the author knows how to seize effective facts, and describe them so that they stand out boldly and also blend well together. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

The story is so simply and unpretendingly told, with such evidence of good temper and enjoyment between the lines, that we feel as if we had met a pleasant acquaintance who had entertained us admirably for an afternoon. — The American, Philadelphia.

JACOBSON. Higher Ground; Hints Toward Settling the Labor Troubles. By Augustus Jacobson. 16mo, 251 pages, $1.00.

To all readers who desire to see the laboring classes well and justly paid for their labor this book will commend itself at once. In a series of thirty-eight chapters the author has laid out and arranged in order his views upon this important question. They will meet with appreciation by many, and give to capitalists and moneyed men some good hints which may be useful to them in the future. — The School Journal, New York.

JÆGER. Henrik Ibsen, 1828–1888: A Critical Biography. By Henrik Jæger. Translated from the Norwegian by William Morton Payne, Translator of Björnson's "Sigurd Slembe." (In press.)

The increasing interest in the works of the great Norwegian dramatist renders this volume one of peculiar timeliness and importance. It appeared only recently in Copenhagen, and has been generally regarded as the authoritative work on Ibsen. Its treatment is a happy blending of biographical and critical details covering the whole story of Ibsen's life, discussing each of his prominent works, and treating with especial fulness and fairness the peculiar social and political theories with which his name is connected. Mr. Payne's carefully made translation has reproduced the profuse poetic extracts of the original with singular felicity, — a task for which his previous exercise in translating Björnson's "Sigurd Slembe" admirably fitted him. The volume will be illustrated with several portraits of Ibsen, a portrait of his wife, and views of his boyhood home, etc.

JOHNSON. Rasselas, Prince of Abyssinia. By Samuel Johnson. Laurel-Crowned Tales. 16mo, 201 pages, gilt top, $1.00.

For many years more than a century the story of "Rasselas" has been the admiration of multitudes of the most cultivated and thoughtful people. Leigh Hunt long ago wrote: "For a model of grave and majestic language, 'Rasselas' will claim, perhaps, the first place in English composition; nor do I recollect any work of the kind that contains so many profound reflections, and, with occasional reserve as to its generality, so many true ones. . . . The writing belongs among the classics in English literature, and, like old wine, will grow better as the years come and go. The publishers lay the lovers of the best literature under obligation for presenting in such cheap and attractive form this masterpiece." — The Chicago Inter-Ocean.

JORDAN. A Manual of the Vertebrate Animals of the Northern United States, including the District north and east of the Ozark Mountains, south of the Laurentian Hills, north of the Southern Boundary of Virginia, and east of the Missouri River. Inclusive of Marine Species. By David Starr Jordan, President of the University of Indiana. Fifth Edition, entirely rewritten and much enlarged. Large 12mo, 375 pages, $2.50.‡

Our author combines in himself the qualifications of both learner and teacher; and that which he has found out for himself he is able to give out for others. . . . For twelve years the present writer has, like many another naturalist, watched with interest the successive reappearances of Jordan's "Manual." . . . Such steady and equable growth of the work assures alike its merit and its success. We are satisfied that it has taken a permanent place in the educational literature of zoölogy in America, as the standard text-book of vertebrates. . . . The successive editions of the "Manual" have been each one an improvement in detail upon its predecessor, though perhaps less obviously or decidedly so than the present fifth one, which has been wholly recast and printed from new plates. . . . The experiences of all naturalists combined have thus far hit upon no better plan for teaching than Professor Jordan applies with success in his modest little volume. The system is as near the "royal road" to learning as has ever been devised. — Dr. Elliott Coues, in THE DIAL.

JORDAN. Science Sketches. By David Starr Jordan, M.D., Ph.D., Professor of Zoölogy, and President of the University of Indiana. Large 12mo, 276 pages, $1.50.

Professor Jordan has gathered together in this volume a number of unconnected sketches and addresses which come more or less directly under the head of popular science, and form a most interesting book. Some of these essays are delightfully written, and show an uncommon facility in putting scientific facts and knowledge into a form which cannot fail to attract and interest even the average thoughtful reader, while the real student of natural science will be delighted with them. — The School Journal, New York.

There is not a dry or unreadable page in his book. The first four papers of the eleven are on subjects connected with their author's specialty, and they fill nearly half the book. But he who has read one of them will have made up his mind to read all the rest, and especially so if the one be that on "Johnny Darters." That on "The Dispersion of Fresh Water Fishes" may contain no parallel information as to the structural history of the country, which is not familiar to men of science; but the average reader will know a good deal more about the make-up of these United States after he is through with reading it. — The American, Philadelphia.

JULIAN. Political Recollections, from 1840 to 1872. By the Hon. George W. Julian. 12mo, 384 pages, $1.50.

The production of a man who may look back upon a public career of which, in point of character and devotion to a principle, anybody might be very proud. — The Atlantic Monthly.

Like Wraxall's "Historical Memoirs," this book infuses dry details with a personal interest, a biographical charm, which makes it by far the most attractive account of the anti-slavery reform that we have yet seen. — The Transcript, Boston.

KEBLE–LIDDON. The Christian Year. By the Rev. John Keble, M.A. The St. Paul's Edition. With the Collects and a Series of Meditations and Exhortations. Selected by permission from the works of the Rev. Henry Parry Liddon, D.D., D.C.L., Canon Residentiary of St. Paul's, and Professor in the University of Oxford. Edited by "Pilgrim." Large 12mo, 453 pages, $1.50.

A handsome and well-printed volume. That its value is increased by the selections from the works of Dr. Liddon will be readily understood. A better gift-book of the religious kind it would not be easy to find. — The Pall Mall Gazette, London.

KIRKLAND. A Short History of France for Young People. By Miss E. S. Kirkland. 12mo, 398 pages, $1.25.

We find its descriptions uncommonly good, that it is admirably simple, direct in style, without waste of words or timidity of opinion. The book represents a great deal of patient labor and conscientious study. — The Courant, Hartford.

Miss Kirkland has composed her "Short History of France" in the way in which a history for young people ought to be written; that is, she has aimed to present a consecutive and agreeable story, from which the reader can not only learn the names of kings and the succession of events, but can also receive a vivid and permanent impression as to the character, modes of life, and the spirit of different periods. — The Nation, New York.

KIRKLAND. Six Little Cooks; or, Aunt Jane's Cooking Class. By Miss E. S. Kirkland. 12mo, 236 pages, $1.00.

We have not seen in the whole range of our juvenile literature a more useful and attractive volume for girls than this. — The Chicago Tribune.

While it is really an interesting narrative in itself, it delightfully teaches girls just how to follow practically its many recipes. — St. Nicholas, New York.

A lucky stroke of genius, because it is a good thing well done. It has the charm of a bright story of real life, and is a useful essay on the art of cooking. — The Times, New York.

KIRKLAND. Dora's Housekeeping. By Miss E. S. Kirkland. 12mo, 275 pages, $1.00.

The story does not flag either, and is enlivened with some good character-sketching. The housewifely advice is sound, sensible, and civilized. We cordially recommend these two books ("Dora's Housekeeping" and "Six Little Cooks") as containing almost the whole gospel of domestic economy. — The Nation, New York.

KIRKLAND. Speech and Manners for Home and School. By Miss E. S. Kirkland. 12mo, 263 pages, $1.00.

Young people need not be required to read this volume; give it to them, and they will read it for their own enjoyment, and be rich gainers by repeated perusals. — The Presbyterian Banner, Pittsburgh.

The author's theory of manners and of speech is good. Her modest manual might be read, re-read, and read again with great advantage in most American families. The new interest taken in this subject calls attention to a branch of æsthetics which amounts to something and commands respect. — The Independent, New York.

KIRKLAND. Six Little Cooks Series. Comprising: Six Little Cooks, Dora's Housekeeping, and Speech and Manners. In new styles of binding. The three volumes in neat box, $3.00.

The above form an admirable series of books for the young.

LABOULAYE. Abdallah; or, The Four-Leaved Clover. By Edouard Laboulaye. Translated by Mary L. Booth. Laurel-Crowned Tales. 16mo, 232 pages, gilt top, $1.00.

"Abdallah" is one of those exquisite tales that must ever delight young and old alike by their purity of style, brightness of wit and fancy, and elevated moral sentiment. It was an especial favorite of its illustrious author, who said of it: "This little volume cost me more than a year's study. There is not a detail in it that is not borrowed from some narrative of Eastern travel; and I read the Koran through twice — a wearisome task — in order to extract therefrom a morality that might put Christians to the blush, though practised by Arabs." The translation by Miss Booth is one of recognized excellence.

An edition in which type, printing, paper, and binding are equally tasteful and admirable. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

LAMARTINE. Graziella: A Story of Italian Love. From the French of A. de Lamartine, by James B. Runnion. 16mo, gilt top, 235 pages, uniform with MEMORIES, MARIE, and MADELEINE, $1.00.

"Graziella" is a poem in prose. The subject and the treatment are both eminently poetic. . . . It glows with love of the beautiful in all nature. . . . It is pure literature, — a perfect story, couched in perfect words. The sentences have rhythm and flow, the sweetness and tender fancy of the original. It is uniform with Max Müller's "Memories," and it should stand side by side with that on the shelves of every lover of pure, strong thoughts put in pure, strong words. "Graziella" is a book to be loved. — The Chicago Tribune.

LAMARTINE. Raphael; or, Pages of the Book of Life at Twenty. From the French of Alphonse de Lamartine. Laurel-Crowned Tales. 16mo, 248 pages, gilt top, $1.00.

This story is an admirable example of Lamartine's literary genius. — The Christian Union, New York.

There is no need to dwell upon the merits of this delightful little classic, a masterpiece in its way that has escaped the oblivion into which most of its distinguished author's writings have disappeared. In the form in which it is reissued, it has all of the attractiveness that clear type, fine paper, and handy size can impart to it. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

LARNED. A Critical Analysis of Drummond's Natural Law in the Spiritual World, with a Reply to some of its Conclusions. By E. C. Larned. 8vo, 46 pages, paper, 40 cents.

LIAS. The First Epistle of St. John. With Exposition and Homiletical Treatment. By the Rev. J. J. Lias, M.A., Vicar of St. Edward's, Cambridge. 12mo, 424 pages, $1.00.

A commentary to be of real use should be like this one, — of sufficient size not to pass by the difficult places and expand itself upon the simple and obvious meanings. We find this book both full and satisfactory. — The Churchman, New York.

LINN. Golden Thoughts. From the Words of Leading Orators, Divines, Philosophers, Statesmen, and Poets. By the Rev. S. P. Linn. Crown 8vo, 448 pages, full gilt, in box, $1.75.

The selections are made with rare taste and judgment. They show a wide range of reading, and a wonderful knack of selecting the few pregnant words which convey the thought of an essay or a speech. Many of the extracts are single lines, epigrammatic in their terse brevity. Others are single aphoristic sentences, and all are short, full of meaning, and to the point. It is a book which readers should peruse and writers should study. — The Philadelphia Inquirer.

LOTI. An Iceland Fisherman. By Pierre Loti. Translated from the French by Anna Farwell de Koven. 16mo, 252 pages, $1.00.

Of the story itself nothing can well be too good to say. We pity the one who can read it without being deeply stirred by its simple, pathetic, and, at moments, solemn beauty. — The Chicago Evening Journal.

"An Iceland Fisherman" is one of Pierre Loti's most charming books. It is really a poem in prose. It has a pure, idyllic quality so unlike most of the work which now comes from French hands, that one must go back to "Paul and Virginia" to find a worthy companion volume. Other French writers have written idyllic chapters; but "An Iceland Fisherman" is a complete idyl from beginning to end. M. Loti is an impressionist of the most delicate quality. . . . The story is infinitely sad; but it is so delicate and tender that its sadness does not oppress one like the melancholy of contemporary pessimistic fiction. It is in all respects a beautiful piece of literary art. — The Christian Union, New York.

MARSH. Opening the Oyster. By Charles L. Marsh. Profusely illustrated. Large 12mo, 361 pages, $1.75.

Those who love stories of adventure will find in "Opening the Oyster" a delightful treat. . . . It is a graphic narrative of a visit by two young men, — congenial spirits, fond of travel and adventure, — of a trip on which they started "without money and without scrip," working their way, and covering five years of time. Whether this trip were real or imaginary matters little, since the purpose of the author has been to amuse, — a purpose which his readers will admit to have been successfully accomplished. — The Traveller, Boston.

MASON AND LALOR. The Primer of Political Economy. In Sixteen Definitions and Forty Propositions. By A. B. Mason and J. J. Lalor. 12mo, 67 pages, 60 cents.

I sincerely hope that Primers of this sort are the beginning of an era in which the knowledge which is most valuable to humankind shall be brought within the leisure time of those who now never look at anything more than a partisan presentation of any subject. — President White, Cornell University.

MÜLLER. Memories: A Story of German Love. Translated from the German of Max Müller, by George P. Upton. 16mo, gilt top, 173 pages, new edition and new binding, uniform with GRAZIELLA, MARIE, and MADELEINE, $1.00.

It is seldom that a powerful intellect produces any work, however small, that does not bear some marks of its special bent; and the traces of research and philosophy in this little story are apparent, while its beauty and pathos show us a fresh phase of a many-sided mind to which we already owe large debts of gratitude. — The Academy.

MUSICAL MOMENTS: Short Selections (Poetry and Prose) in Praise of Music. Collected and Arranged by J. E. P. 16mo, 173 pages, $1.00; limp morocco, gilt edges, $3.50.

Some anonymous lover of the art divine has compiled this little anthology, which all who delight in music cannot fail to enjoy. The selections in prose and verse are chosen from a wide range of authors, and yet there is not in the book a single passage that fails to convey some noble thought or lovely emotion. . . . The little book is admirably fitted to serve its purpose. — The Beacon, Boston.

NICHOLAS. The Biddy Club: And how its Members, wise and otherwise, some toughened and some tender-footed in the rugged ways of Housekeeping, grappled with the troublous Servant Question, to the great advantage of themselves, and, as they hope, of many others. By Griffith A. Nicholas. 12mo, 308 pages, $1.25.

One of the sprightliest, cunningest, wittiest, and wisest books of the season. . . . Jolly wisdom may be just as wise as wisdom under the cypress-tree, and it is vastly easier to take. — The Mid-Continent, St. Louis.

It is the careful effort of some earnest well-wisher to both mistress and servant to teach the former how, by fulfilling her own duties, she may develop capacity in the latter. It is daring in its ideals, but full of admirable suggestion. It emphasizes strongly the duty of treating servants with kindly consideration, as well as the strictest honor, and has also the conspicuous merit of showing how American women should face the dragon of domestic service instead of cowering before it, as is often assumed must be done. — The Nation, New York.

NINDE. We Two Alone in Europe. By Mary L. Ninde. With Illustrations from Original Designs. 12mo, 348 pages, $1.50.

In these days, when letters and books about travels in Europe have become generally monotonous, to say the least, it is absolutely refreshing to get hold of a bright, original book like "We Two Alone in Europe." — The Home Journal, Boston.

It is a narrative told so naturally and so vividly that the two gentle travellers do not seem to be "alone," but to have taken at least the reader along with them. . . . It is filled with so many interesting glimpses of sights and scenes in many lands as to render it thoroughly entertaining. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

"We Two Alone" were a pair of bright travellers; and the one of the pair who writes for them both has an enviable power of seeing things clearly, and of saying what she means, without fumbling for a word or inflating her sentence. The book is direct, brief, and — what it assumes to be — the record of the grand tour made by two bright, intelligent, and fearless American girls. — The Independent, New York.

NOHL. Life of Mozart. Translated from the German of Louis Nohl, by John J. Lalor. With portrait. 12mo, 236 pages, $1.00.

Mozart supplies, in his wonderful genius, his pleasing character, and in his varied career, a fascinating subject for biographical treatment. He lives in these pages somewhat as the world saw him, from his marvellous boyhood till his untimely death. — The Standard, Chicago.

The work was well worthy of translation, for it is a model of short biography, containing all that the student need know to understand fully the works of the great composer. The translator has done his work in a very creditable manner, and the publishers have given it an appropriate dress. — The Traveller, Boston.

NOHL. Life of Beethoven. Translated from the German of Louis Nohl, by John J. Lalor. With portrait. 12mo, 201 pages, $1.00.

It is an important contribution to the literature of musical biography. It gives the reader an idea of the man Beethoven, his moods, his ambitions, his personal traits, and will be welcomed by all lovers of music as a strong, firm picture of the great composer, and a record of the incidents of his life. — The Alliance, Chicago.

In this book there is much for music students to linger over, and those who love to follow the great masters' career will find this story of the life of the greatest of them all peculiarly fascinating. No student can fully understand the great works of musical art until he knows and can sympathize with the inner nature of the worker. — The Musical Visitor, Cincinnati.

NOHL. Life of Haydn. Translated from the German of Louis Nohl, by George P. Upton. With portrait. 12mo, 195 pages, $1.00.

A highly interesting picture of the genial, sensitive, and lovable man, and a critically appreciative account of his career as a composer. . . . No fuller history of his career, the society in which he moved, and of his personal life can be found than is given in this work. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

NOHL. Life of Wagner. Translated from the German of Louis Nohl, by George P. Upton. With portrait. 12mo, 204 pages, $1.00.

Herr Nohl's biography is terse, concise, enthusiastic, and at the same time just. Any one who wishes to get a clear idea of the "Music of the Future" and of Wagner's life-work will do well to read this volume. — The Philadelphia Press.

It is a very concise biography, and gives in vigorous outlines those events of the life of the tone-poet which exercised the greatest influence upon his artistic career, his youth, his early studies, his first works, his sufferings, his disappointments, his victories. It is a story of a strong life devoted to lofty aims. — The American, Baltimore.

NOHL. Life of Liszt. Translated from the German of Louis Nohl, by George P. Upton. With portrait. 12mo, 198 pages, $1.00.

It is more than a mere biography of the great musician: it is a comprehensive, sympathetic review of his personal and musical characteristics, and it is a thoroughly entertaining volume from beginning to end. — The Boston Post.

In this Life of Liszt, Dr. Nohl had an attractive subject for a musical enthusiast. . . . It is refreshed by incident and narrative, and is not overweighted by a too subtle analysis, which a musical critic is often tempted to make, especially when dealing with such a phenomenon as Liszt. — The Christian Register, Boston.

NOHL. Biographies of Musicians. From the German of Dr. Louis Nohl, and comprising, as above: The Lives of MOZART, BEETHOVEN, HAYDN, WAGNER, and LISZT. Per volume, $1.00. The five volumes in neat box, per set, $5.00; in half calf, $12.50; half morocco, $13.50; half morocco, gilt edges, $17.50.

NOLL. A Short History of Mexico. By Arthur Howard Noll. 16mo, 294 pages, $1.00.

It is a useful and accurate manual, well written, well printed, and well indexed. — Book-Buyer, New York.

In this work of Mr. Noll's we have an admirable example of what a history should be; an example that is sure to have an appreciable effect upon future historians. It is not a mere condensation of previously collected facts. Much of his material is entirely new, and was collected by him during an extended residence in Mexico. . . . This book comes at a singularly opportune time, just as the Pan-American Congress and Secretary Blaine's reciprocity scheme are arousing an interest in our sister republic, and we predict for it a wide reading. — The Boston Evening Transcript.

NONPAREIL PRACTICAL COOK BOOK. Containing a Large Number of New Recipes, many from English, French, and German Cooks. By Mrs. A. G. M—. Blank interleaves. 12mo, 435 pages, $1.25.

It is an excellent compilation of the best and most economical receipts. . . . A common-sense cook book in all respects. — The Boston Globe.

NOTES FOR BOYS (And their Fathers). On Morals, Mind, and Manners. By an Old Boy. 12mo, 208 pages, $1.00.

It is one of the best books of the sort that we have ever seen. It covers more ground in small space than most others, and makes its points with rare force. It is judicious in what it does not insist upon as truly as in what it urges. . . . It may be safely put upon the household shelves beside "Tom Brown at Rugby." — The Congregationalist, Boston.

Many fathers, we are sure, would get useful hints from this book; while the boy who should follow its teachings would have a well-rounded character, and be a gentleman in the truest sense of the word, whatever his position in life. — The Nation, New York.

NORTON. In and Around Berlin. By Minerva Brace Norton. 12mo, 268 pages, $1.00.

A pleasantly written and neatly made little book which any American who is having his first experience of Berlin would do well to read. It stands in marked contrast to the rapid express-train kind of books so many travellers expect us to read, and shows the manifold advantages of leisurely residence. — The Independent, New York.

In the first place the book charms us because it tells nothing that is not worth hearing, is not of genuine interest to travellers intending to sojourn for a long or short time in the city; and in the second place, because it is thoroughly unhackneyed, and completely covers everything of note, a wonderfully hard task, but wonderfully well done. It is simply written, easy and graceful in style, giving one the feeling that one is reading the chatty letter of a clever and observing friend. — The New London Telegraph.

PARKER. Familiar Talks on Astronomy, with Chapters on Geography and Navigation. By William Harwar Parker, author of "Recollections of a Naval Officer." 12mo, 264 pages, $1.00.

"Familiar Talks on Astronomy" are so easy and pleasant that they may well attract readers who would be repelled by a volume of greater pretensions and more formal style. Even the little mathematical explanations on which he now and then enters become quite readable under his facile pen. — The Nation, New York.

The author has done well in placing matters little understood generally in an attractive form. . . . It is a valuable work. . . . We wish there were more books of this character, — instructive, readable, interesting, without being too elementary. . . . We commend this neat, well printed, useful, and fascinating volume, replete with useful knowledge and delightful reading. — The American Engineer.

PUSHKIN. Marie: A Story of Russian Love. From the Russian of Alexander Pushkin, by Marie H. de Zielinska. 16mo, gilt top, 210 pages, uniform with MEMORIES, GRAZIELLA, and MADELEINE, $1.00.

Pushkin, the most eminent of Russian poets and novelists, is a writer little known in translations. He is delightfully introduced to the American public by his tale of "Marie." — The Independent, New York.

An unadorned record, told in the most charming way, of the adventures of a young Russian officer, who sees service against some rebels, and whose betrothal to the heroine forms the romantic part of the story. There is plenty of incident, and the narration is so direct and simple that the reader becomes at once conscious of a master's hand. — The Nation, New York.

RABBE. Shelley: The Man and the Poet. By Felix Rabbe. Translated by Mrs. Cashel Hoey. 12mo, 420 pages, $1.50.

An interesting and accurate analysis of Shelley's life and works. — The Daily Telegraph, London.

It is written with remarkable force, directness, and brilliancy. — The Chicago Tribune.

REDFORD. Four Centuries of Silence; or, From Malachi to Christ. By the Rev. R. A. Redford, M.A., LL.B. Crown 8vo, 258 pages, $1.25.

Professor Redford, who is the professor of systematic theology and apologetics in New College, London, has done a real service in this able and scholarly work. He is thoroughly familiar with his subject, and he writes with a clearness and vigor which make the book as interesting as it is valuable. It is a most excellent book. — The Interior, Chicago.

It would be difficult to speak too highly of the wide reading, the careful and discriminating thought, and the wise and cautious judgments by which throughout the work is characterized. . . . It fills a gap in the history of religious thought. — The British Quarterly Review.

REDDALL. Fact, Fancy, and Fable. A new Handbook for Ready Reference on Subjects commonly Omitted from Cyclopædias. Compiled by Henry Frederic Reddall. Imperial 8vo, 536 pages, half leather, $3.50.

It must take its place for the time being as the best work of its kind in existence, particularly as regards American topics. — The New York Sun.

It supplements and enlarges the usefulness of every dictionary and all the handbooks the dictionary has suggested. — The Boston Globe.

Writers and readers alike will find this work serviceable and trustworthy. — The Philadelphia Press.

The volume, a large one, is a collection of out-of-the-way odds and ends, relating to subjects that are constantly spoken of, but of which very many people do not understand the meaning. In gathering these floating items, and giving them a permanent form, Mr. Reddall has performed a genuine service; and his book is one that can be read with profit and amusement at any odd moment, and is of permanent value as a handbook of reference. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

REEVES. The Rothschilds: The Financial Rulers of Nations. By John Reeves. Ten Illustrations. 12mo, xiv and 381 pages, $1.50.

Altogether this book is most interesting and valuable, and should be read by every one, not only because of certain lessons which it teaches, that no one who wishes to get on in the world can do without, but also because the Rothschilds represent one of the most important factors of European development in the nineteenth century. — The Star, New York.

REXFORD. Grandmother's Garden. By Eben E. Rexford. Illustrated by Mary Cecilia Spaulding. 4to, full gilt, $2.50.

This splendid specimen of artistic book-work is a credit to the house which has produced it. The poem illustrated is a sweet song about the flowers and their association with the dear grandmother who loved and tended them. The pictures are faithful reproductions of charcoal sketches done by a master hand. In mechanical work, quality of paper, and tasteful finish of every detail, the book seems to be beyond criticism. — The Living Church, Chicago.

RHEINHARDT. Whist Scores and Card-Table Talk. With a Bibliography of Whist. By Rudolf H. Rheinhardt. Illustrated. 12mo, 310 pages, gilt top, $1.00.

Mr. Rheinhardt has not only made a pretty book, but also done a new thing. He has prepared a whist score-book to contain the record of the play during two hundred and fifty evenings, allowing ample space for all important data and for explanatory remarks. . . . Then on the back of the whist scores, which fill only the even pages, is an excellent collection of ana and anecdotes about playing-cards and card-playing, gathered from the best sources and carefully credited. — The Nation, New York.

RICHARDSON. Familiar Talks on English Literature: A Manual Embracing the Great Epochs of English Literature, from the English Conquest of Britain, 449, to the Death of Walter Scott, 1832. By Abby Sage Richardson. 12mo, xi and 454 pages, $1.50.

The work is without question one of the best of the kind with which we are acquainted; if for no other reason, because it has in greater measure than usual the capacity to interest the young readers for whom it is intended. — The Evening Post, New York.

RICHARDSON. A Girdle Round the Earth. Home Letters from Foreign Lands. By the Hon. D. N. Richardson. 8vo, 449 pages, $2.00; half calf, $4.00; half morocco, $4.25.

Taken as a whole, the book is one of the gentlest, shrewdest, most amusing, and most instructive travelling records that has appeared for many a day; and for one I can only say to the writer, "Thank you, and please go again." — Octave Thanet, in THE DIAL.

RUSKIN. Sesame and Lilies. Three Lectures by John Ruskin. Finely printed and bound. 16mo, 237 pages, gilt top, $1.00; half calf or half morocco, $2.75; limp Russia or morocco, gilt edges, $3.50.

Other editions of this notable and popular book have been printed, but none so tastefully as this. . . . Of the book itself it may not be inopportune to say that it shows the author at his best. — The New York Herald.

It would be hard to find a better book to put into the hands of a youth — boy or girl — at that critical epoch of life when the spiritual and intellectual faculties seem to leap out with a bound from the chrysalis of the animal nature and determine their direction for life. — The Home Journal, New York.

SAINTSBURY. Specimens of English Prose Style. From Malory to Macaulay. Selected and Annotated, with an Introductory Essay, by George Saintsbury. Crown 8vo, xlvi and 367 pages, $2.00; half calf or half morocco, $4.00.

Mr. Saintsbury does so much that it is a wonder he should often do so well. . . . In this volume of "Specimens of English Prose Style" he is seen at his best. The selection is comprehensive and well made; the annotations are always intelligent, and are sometimes as good as such things can be; the introduction, an essay on the nature and development of English prose style, is in the author's happiest vein. . . . Nothing could be better than his sketch of the progress of English prose, from its beginnings in Malory, to its decadence in the individualism of the present day. — The Athenæum, London.

SANDEAU. Madeleine: A Story of French Love. Translated from the French of Jules Sandeau, by Francis Charlot. 16mo, gilt top, 244 pages, new edition and new binding, uniform with MEMORIES, GRAZIELLA, and MARIE, $1.00.

Jules Sandeau's "Madeleine" is a love-story that approximates very closely to perfection. It is a theme of exceeding purity and beauty, treated by an artist whose style is as finished and delicate as it is firm, and whose French is a model of elegant simplicity. It is not surprising that "Madeleine" has become a classic, ranking with "The Attic Philosopher," and only a little below "Paul and Virginia." Sandeau tells of the salvation of a wrecked life by the agency of a pure and constant love. His story is a poem in the most tender prose, and is a marvel of precise construction. — The Times, Philadelphia.

SAY. Turgot. By Léon Say, of the French Academy. The Great French Writers. Translated by Prof. M. B. Anderson. 12mo. $1.00.

This book contains an inexhaustible mine of information for students of history and political economy. — Book-Chat, New York.

This little volume . . . has a special interest and importance both on account of its subject and its authorship. M. Léon Say is one of the most distinguished French publicists of the present day, while Turgot was not only one of the most eminent financiers that ever had to do with French affairs, but he was in a particular sense an economical specialist. . . . It is in his character of a philosophical financier that M. Say has attempted to deal with him; and the volume is one that is especially well worthy of the consideration of intelligent Americans, as the essentials of the subject which he discusses were never more actively political factors than they are at the present time in this country. — The Evening Telegraph, Philadelphia.

SCUDDER. The Labor-Value Fallacy: An able discussion of Socialism, and particularly of Henry George's Theories. By M. L. Scudder, Jr. 12mo, 92 pages, 50 cents.

It is one of the most thoughtful of recent contributions to economic literature. It is written in a lucid and attractive style, and will be found no less interesting than the work which it specially assails. — The Chicago Times.

SCUDDER. Congested Prices: An Examination of the Phenomena called "Panics," their Nature and Causes. By M. L. Scudder, Jr. 12mo, 52 pages, 50 cents.

It is long since we have met a book which better deserved or repaid thoughtful examination. Its style is clear, brisk, and thoroughly interesting, so that the attention is held from the beginning to the end. . . . It is a very instructive and helpful book. — The Public, New York.

SCHMID. The Theories of Darwin, and their Relation to Philosophy, Religion, and Morality. From the German of Rudolf Schmid, by G. A. Zimmermann, Ph.D. Second Edition. 12mo, 410 pages, $1.50.

This book, it is plain, is one worth having. The author is one of the very few theologians who is fully possessed of the scientific spirit. . . . There is no phase or bearing of his subject which he does not perceive and clearly indicate; and while there are some matters to which assent cannot readily be given, we pronounce it the best and strongest discussion of the relations between science and religion now existing in an English dress. We quote the words of another, — "instructive, assuring, wise, helpful." — The Christian Advocate, New York.

SEVEN DAYS AFTER THE HONEYMOON. By S. A. B. Small quarto, 52 pages, gilt edges, tied with cord, in a box, 50 cents.

No husband, new or otherwise, could resist those dainty repasts, or could be convinced that he had not a treasure in the wife who could prepare them. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

No one would suspect the contents of this book from its title or exterior. It comes in a little box, in thick paper covers, cream-tinted, with the title and a graceful border in sepia, the leaves gilded, and tied at the back with silk cord. One opens the covers with curiosity and finds within first a quaint introduction, next a verse from Solomon's Songs, "Stay me with flagons, comfort me with apples, for I am sick of love;" then follows a most tempting and dainty bill of fare for every day of the week. One page for each day is covered by a prettily printed menu headed with a fanciful design, and this page is followed by several pages of recipes for the breakfast and dinner dishes set down in the menu. The little book is attractive without and within. — The Beacon, Boston.

SHAW. The National Revenues: A Collection of Papers by American Economists. Edited by Albert Shaw, Ph.D. With an Introduction and an Appendix of Statistical Tables. 12mo, 245 pages, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

Every side and phase of this great subject is presented with ability. The free-trader, the tariff-reformer, and the protectionist have each a hearing. It is a timely symposium, and is neither too voluminous to be tiresome, nor too one-sided to be prejudicial. — The Chicago Evening Journal.

Dr. Shaw has made a collection of opinions from men who deserve to be heard on the economic questions of the day, and he has supplemented the work of his contributors with the necessary prelude and postlude, adding many figures valuable for immediate reference. The volume is the best kind of reading for thoughtful citizens. — The Literary World, Boston.

The essays are not by partisans, but by profound and experienced students of economic science, men of national reputation whose opinions will carry weight with all thinking men. They are from no one standpoint, but range from the extreme protection views of Professor Thompson, of the University of Pennsylvania, to the opposing beliefs of President Francis A. Walker, and of Professor Laughlin, of Harvard University. Every man writes independently, and says just what he thinks and believes, with his reasons; and thus many entirely new sidelights are thrown on all phases of the subject. — The Boston Transcript.

SHERWOOD. Camp-Fire, Memorial-Day, and Other Poems. By Mrs. Kate Brownlee Sherwood, late National President Woman's Relief Corps. 12mo, 212 pages, $1.00; full gilt, $1.50.

SIDNEY. Astrophel and Stella. By Sir Philip Sidney. Edited by Alfred Pollard. With Portrait of Sidney. 16mo, 273 pages, gilt top, in vellum, $1.75 net.

This beautiful little volume, uniform with "Sappho," published last year, will be similarly welcomed by lovers of good poetry and daintily made books. The romance that twines about the name of Sidney is indissolubly associated with his love sonnets, known under the title of "Astrophel and Stella." The origin of these sonnets, and their relation to events in the real life of their author, are set forth in an Introduction by Mr. Pollard, who also supplies nearly sixty pages of carefully prepared notes.

SIMON. Victor Cousin. By Jules Simon, of the French Academy. The Great French Writers. Translated by Prof. Melville B. Anderson and Edward Playfair Anderson. 12mo, 220 pages, $1.00.

This little volume will probably be the standard memoir of the eminent French philosopher. — The Home Journal, New York.

Two such names on a titlepage as those of Cousin and Simon should attract all thoughtful readers to this little book. They will find themselves well repaid. The author was more than a disciple of the man who is his theme: he not only sat under his teachings, but he came to understand the very spirit of the man, and to appreciate the subtle interactions of the character and the philosophical system which were his. The book is charmingly written, and the translation, as in all the books of this series, is admirably well done. — The Evangelist, New York.

SMITH. William I. and the German Empire. A Biographical and Historical Sketch. By G. Barnett Smith, author of "Poets and Novelists," "The Biography of Mr. Gladstone," etc. 8vo, $2.00.

No finer contribution to modern history has been made than is to be found in this noble volume. — The Evening Bulletin, Philadelphia.

We like it exceedingly. Its personal characterizations are distinct and impartial. Its political representations are temperate and candid. . . . We doubt if any record brief enough to be comprehended within the limits of a single volume ever is likely to be made of the period here described which will surpass this one in either interest or other merit. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

SOREL. Montesquieu. By Albert Sorel. The Great French Writers. Translated by Prof. Melville B. Anderson and Edward Playfair Anderson. 12mo, 218 pages, $1.00.

No 'prentice hands are admitted to this undertaking. The story of Montesquieu's life and work is skilfully told by a well-trained pen. Epigrams and serious reflections unroll themselves in rounded periods. The successful reproduction of M. Sorel's fluent prose must be credited to Melville B. Anderson and Edward Playfair Anderson, who establish their reputation as sympathetic translators. This mobile adaptability is visible throughout, and the value of the English version contributes largely to the worth of the book. The brilliant current of this book makes it difficult to call a halt before turning the final page. — The Public Ledger, Philadelphia.

SPALDING. Education and the Higher Life. By the Rt. Rev. J. L. Spalding, Bishop of Peoria. 12mo, $1.00.

This is a collection of eight essays, having a certain unity of subject, though each is complete and separate in itself. They plead the cause of religion, culture, and higher spiritual life, as opposed to the coarseness and materialism that are so common in our practical and unspiritual age. Seldom has the nobility of exalted ideals and aims been presented more forcibly and winningly than by the eloquent Bishop of Peoria. The author's rich style and poetic treatment lend a high charm to the serious and elevated thoughts set forth in this volume. It will prove an invaluable friend and helper to all persons, of whatever creed or age, who, in Matthew Arnold's phrase, would wish to "live in the spirit."

STARRETT–ALLISON. The Future of Educated Women, by Mrs. Helen Ekin Starrett; and Men, Women, and Money, by Mrs. Frances Ekin Allison. 16mo, 75 pages, 50 cents.

The two essays deal intelligently and practically with the great question of employment for women, the care of property, etc. They are eminently sensible and helpful in their general suggestions, and will do real good. — The Congregationalist, Boston.

STARRETT. Letters to a Daughter. By Helen Ekin Starrett. Square 16mo, 124 pages, paper, 30 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

They are nine in number, and they are admirable. . . . The little book ought to have the widest possible circulation. Its views are excellent, and they are well put. Mothers of daughters should see that it has a hearing. — The Literary World, Boston.

An admirable little book to put into the hands of growing girls. Written by a cultured woman who understands girl-life, with its hopes and aspirations, these letters are calculated to keep and to elevate the girls whose aims are high and noble. — The Living Church, Chicago.

STARRETT. Letters to Elder Daughters, Married and Unmarried. By Helen Ekin Starrett. 16mo, 165 pages, paper, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

No more useful book could be put into a daughter's hand by a thoughtful mother, and no daughter can study it without deriving profit from it. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

It would be well if every father would lay this neat little volume upon his daughter's table, or slip it in her satchel as she starts upon a journey. It is a plain, practical, common-sense discussion of the practical, every-day things of life, most pleasingly and impressively given. — The Inter-Ocean, Chicago.

STEVENS. How Men Propose: The Fateful Question and its Answer. Love-Scenes from the Popular and the Classic Works of Fiction. Collected by Agnes Stevens. 12mo, 343 pages, $1.50.

Entertaining and odd was the idea of grouping together extracts from classic and well-known contemporary novels, showing how courtship has been brought to its practical climax in one or another social epoch and stratum, and by the depiction of this or that prominent fictionist. . . . Miss Stevens has acquitted herself judiciously and artistically of the scheme under eight general headings. . . . It is an exceedingly large, happily chosen, and certainly decidedly illustrative series. The selection is broad and complete, including every author necessary. . . . The book is a literary candy-shop. — The Independent, New York.

SWING. Club Essays. By Prof. David Swing. New and Enlarged Edition. 16mo, 266 pages, $1.00.

Our favorite preacher improves on a rehearing. His forte is essay-writing; and what he writes overflows with the geniality of his own bright nature. His ripe scholarship, never running into pedantry, is part and parcel of all his work. . . . This little volume is welcome. It is cheerful reading. Its smooth-flowing sentences carry you along from page to page without fatigue or weariness. There are no unfathomable depths of thought to be sounded only with the plummet of imagination. All is clear, unobstructed sailing. — The Chicago Tribune.

SWING. Motives of Life. By Prof. David Swing, New and Enlarged Edition. 16mo, 239 pages, $1.00.

Here, as everywhere, Professor Swing writes with the simplicity, the earnestness, and the honesty which come of a sincere devotion to all that is best and noblest and purest in life and character. — The Evening Post, New York.

There is about his style a warmth, a beauty of imagery, a charm, that are as much a part of his individuality as his features are. — The Chicago Times.

SWING. Truths for To-Day. By Prof. David Swing. First Series, 12mo, 325 pages, $1.50; Second Series, 12mo, 294 pages, $1.50.

The preacher makes no display of his rich resources, but you are convinced that you are listening to a man of earnest thought, of rare culture, and of genuine humanity. He has no taste for hair-splitting subtleties, but presents a broad and generous view of human duty, appealing to the highest instincts and the purest motives of a lofty manhood. — The New York Tribune.

SWING. Sermons. By Prof. David Swing. 12mo, 307 pages, $1.50.

The best possible review of Professor Swing's books would be one composed entirely of extracts from their pages. Emerson himself is scarcely a more quotable writer. Epigrams and aphorisms follow each other with marvellous plentitude. — The Chicago Tribune.

Stretching over a wide range of topics, they treat of the several vital qualities of human life with the earnestness of thought and genuine humanity which we always find in Professor Swing's works. — The Pittsburgh Chronicle.

SWISSHELM. Half a Century. By Jane Gray Swisshelm. 12mo, 363 pages, $1.50.

The most amusing, provoking, inspiring production of many a long day, which, having once begun, you will not lay down until the last chapter and page are finished. And having finished it, you exclaim: "What a wonderful life! What a wonderful woman!" — The Christian Register, Boston.

TAYLOR. Is Protection a Benefit? A Plea for the Negative. By Prof. Edward Taylor. 12mo, 274 pages, $1.00.

The work may be commended heartily for the impartial spirit in which both sides of the question are set forth. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

Whether protectionist or free-trader, whether reformer or conservative, every American with the right to vote should inform himself upon this paramount question of American industrial progress. In this volume he will find much to enlighten his mind on whatever side he may prefer to range himself. — The Chicago Tribune.

The book is certainly characterized by marked ability, by evidently careful study of the whole subject, and is written in a style so manly and bright that one will be sure to read it with pleasure, whether more or less interested in the questions discussed. — The Standard, Chicago.

TALES FROM FOREIGN TONGUES. Comprising: Memories (Max Müller), Graziella (Lamartine), Marie (Pushkin), and Madeleine (Sandeau). 16mo, gilt tops, per volume, $1.00. The four volumes in neat box, per set, $4.00; in half calf or half morocco, gilt tops, $9.00; in half calf or half morocco, gilt edges, $10.00; Russia, limp, gilt edges, $12.00.

The series of four volumes contains perhaps the best pieces of classic fiction which have been added by translation to the English language in recent years.

Of Memories, The Evening Journal, of Chicago, says: "It is dramatically constructed, unflagging in interest, abounding in grace, beauty, and pathos, and filled with the tenderest feelings of sympathy."

Of Graziella, The Boston Post says: "It is full of beautiful sentiment, unique and graceful in style, of course, as were all the writings that left the hands of this distinguished French author."

Of Marie, The Cincinnati Gazette says: "It is one of the purest, sweetest little narratives that we have read for a long time. It is a little classic, and a Russian classic, too. We catch the very breezes of the Steppes, and meet, face to face, the high-souled, simple-minded Russian."

Of Madeleine, The Evening Mail, of New York, says: "It is one of the most exquisite love tales that ever was written, abounding in gentle pathos and sparkling wit, and so pure in its sentiment that it may be read by a child."

TAYLOR. His Broken Sword: A Novel. By Winnie Louise Taylor. Second Edition. Large 12mo, 354 pages, $1.25.

I have read with interest "His Broken Sword." It is something more and better than a mere work of fiction. It brings, in a very entertaining way, before the public the condition and treatment of convicts under our penal laws, and therefore suggests the nature and necessity of the reforms which a wide humanity seeks to introduce in our prison systems. In spirit, purpose, and execution, it is simply capital. — The Hon. Rutherford B. Hayes.

THOMPSON. The Humbler Poets: A Collection of Newspaper and Periodical Verse. 1870 to 1885. By Slason Thompson. Crown 8vo, 459 pages, gilt top, $2.00; half calf or half morocco, $4.00.

The most valuable collection of miscellaneous verse which has appeared in many years. — The Observer, New York.

The publishers have done well in issuing this volume in a style of literary and artistic excellence such as is given to the works of the poets of name and fame, because the contents richly entitle it to such distinction. — The Home Journal, Boston.

The high poetic character of these poems as a whole is surprising. As a unit, the collection makes an impression which even a genius of the highest order would not be adequate to produce. . . . Measured by poetic richness, variety, and merit of the selections contained, the collection is a rarely good one, flavored with the freshness and aroma of the present time. — The Independent, New York.

THWAITES. Historic Waterways: Six Hundred Miles of Canoeing down the Rock, Fox, and Wisconsin Rivers. By Reuben Gold Thwaites, Secretary State Historical Society of Wisconsin. With two maps of the routes, and a table of distances. 12mo, 298 pages, $1.25.

Mr. Thwaites is an enthusiastic canoeist, combining in "Historic Waterways" historic lore and vacation pleasuring in a very agreeable manner. The "historic waterways" are the Rock, Fox, and Wisconsin Rivers. He has traversed them all from fountain-head to mouth in his canoe, and what he does n't know about them, present and past, is hardly worth knowing. . . . We have no doubt that the coming summer will find some of the adventurous paddles of the Atlantic slope working their way, with Mr. Thwaites's book in their pocket, — or wherever canoeists do carry things, — up the Wisconsin or down the Rock River. — The Epoch, New York.

Mr. Thwaites has done bravely and well; and his six hundred miles of canoeing led through a good deal of gentle adventure, some pleasant scenery, now and then an excitement, and a succession of experiences which have their interest for canoeists like himself. — The Literary World, Boston.

TOPELIUS. Times of Gustaf Adolf: An Historical Romance of the Times of the Thirty Years' War. From the Swedish of Prof. Z. Topelius. 12mo, 341 pages, 75 cents.

Its vivid descriptions and thrilling episodes commend it to the lovers of romance, while its historical truthfulness and charming style make it attractive to literary readers of all classes. "The Story of the Thirty Years' War" is a fascinating chapter in history, and Topelius writes of it with great imaginative powers and charm of style. The reader may be assured of a rich treat in this book, and will look eagerly for its successors. — The Journal of Education, Boston.

TOPELIUS. Times of Battle and of Rest: An Historical Romance of the Times of Charles X. and Charles XI. From the Swedish of Prof. Z. Topelius. 12mo, 393 pages, 75 cents.

One cannot deny the spell that is wielded by these vividly imaginative portrayals of events and characters that have an actual place in history. — The Literary World, Boston.

It gives a stirring and graphic account of the conquests of Charles X. in Poland and Denmark, . . . and the more peaceful but important events of the reign of Charles XI. . . . Topelius deals with the rich material before him like a true master of historical romance. — Good Literature, New York.

TOPELIUS. Times of Charles XII.: An Historical Romance of the Times of Charles XII. From the Swedish of Prof. Z. Topelius. 12mo, 349 pages, 75 cents.

If history might always be written as it is here, there would be few boys or girls who would not call for it as eagerly as they now do for the sensational trash with which the market is fairly glutted. — The School Journal, New York.

Under an enthusiasm caught from the study of the times of which he writes, with a rare tact for an artistic grouping of characters, and with an equally rare talent for powerful delineation and description, Professor Topelius has given us a work which will both delight and instruct the reader, and will occupy no second place on the list of such historical novels as are destined to illustrate the law of the survival of the fittest. — The Interior, Chicago.

TOPELIUS. Times of Frederick I.: An Historical Romance of the Period succeeding the Reign of Charles XII. From the Swedish of Prof. Z. Topelius. 12mo, 370 pages, 75 cents.

The style is so engrossing that one cannot bear to lay the book down until every page has been read. — The Chronicle-Telegraph, Pittsburgh.

It is simply wonderful, the way in which the attention is arrested and held, and the varied and apparently inexhaustible resources which the writer has at his command. He tells us of the actions and sayings of kings and peasants with the same unsurpassed ease and naturalness, with an air of vraisemblance, as the French would say, which is very enchanting. — The National Baptist, Philadelphia.

TOPELIUS. Times of Linnæus: An Historical Romance of the Times of the Great Naturalist Linnæus. From the Swedish of Prof. Z. Topelius. 12mo, 394 pages, 75 cents.

Like its predecessor in the series, the story is abundant in spirit, movement, and incident, while the recital is characterized by fire, picturesqueness, and force. — The Saturday Evening Gazette, Boston.

The author has proved himself a master of the art of combination, or of putting old things into new forms, and exhibiting them in new relations and associations. His stories are so full of stir and movement, and events are described with such spirit and minute circumstantiality, as to practically disarm the critic and convert him into an absorbed reader. — The Chicago Times.

TOPELIUS. Times of Alchemy: An Historical Romance of the Dawn of the Gustavian Period of Swedish History. From the Swedish of Prof. Z. Topelius. 12mo, 331 pages, 75 cents.

"The Surgeon's Stories" are at an end. . . . The story of the nation closes with the beginning of the present era of peace and stability, while the careers of the heroes and heroines who have helped to tell it, terminate where all well-ordered fictitious careers should, — at the marriage altar. The completion of "The Surgeon's Stories" forms an event in modern literature. — The Buffalo Express.

TOPELIUS. The Surgeon's Stories. Translated from the Swedish of Prof. Z. Topelius, and comprising: Times of Gustaf Adolf, Battle and of Rest, Charles XII., Frederick I., Linnæus, and Alchemy. Each book is complete in itself, but an historical sequence and unity connect the series. Per volume, 75 cents. The six volumes, in neat box, $4.50.

Topelius has won his way to an assured fame as one of the best novelists of the day. — The Churchman, New York.

As many of Scott's novels give vivid and truthful pictures of English history, so these stories present a galaxy of historical portraits more life-like than any drawn by the historian. — The San Francisco Chronicle.

No such stories can be found in the language, unless we except Scott's novels and Wilson's Tales of the Border. — The Philadelphia Press.

UPTON. The Standard Operas: Their Plots, their Music, and their Composers. A Handbook. By George P. Upton. 12mo, 371 pages, yellow edges, $1.50; extra gilt, gilt edges, $2.00.

Mr. Upton, whose fitness for the task will be generally acknowledged, has here produced a book well adapted to aid opera goers in the intelligent enjoyment and understanding of the master-pieces of the great composers. . . . The volume is beautifully made, and will be found an almost indispensable vade mecum for lovers of the opera and those who would become such. — The Musical Herald, Boston.

Among the multitude of handbooks which are published every year, and are described by easy-going writers of book-notices as supplying a long-felt want, we know of none which so completely carries out the intention of the writer as "The Standard Operas," whose object is to present to its readers a comprehensive sketch of each of the operas contained in the modern repertory. . . . There are thousands of music-loving people who will be glad to have the kind of knowledge which Mr. Upton has collected for their benefit, and has cast in a clear and compact form. — R. H. Stoddard, in The Mail and Express, New York.

UPTON. The Standard Oratorios: Their Stories, their Music, and their Composers. A Handbook. By George P. Upton. 12mo, 335 pages, yellow edges, $1.50; extra gilt, gilt edges, $2.00.

Music lovers are under a new obligation to Mr. Upton for this companion to this "Standard Operas," — two books which deserve to be placed on the same shelf with Grove's and Riemann's musical dictionaries. — The Nation, New York.

Like the valuable art handbooks of Mrs. Jameson, these volumes contain a world of interesting information, indispensable to critics and art amateurs. The volume under review is elegantly and succinctly written, and the subjects are handled in a thoroughly comprehensive manner. The favor which has been so generously accorded to "The Standard Operas" leads us to think that "The Standard Oratorios" will also be welcomed by those who enjoy the sacred music of the great masters, and that it will prove a valuable addition to other works of musical reference. — Public Opinion, Washington.

UPTON. The Standard Cantatas: Their Stories, their Music, and their Composers. A Handbook. By George P. Upton. 12mo, 367 pages, yellow edges, $1.50; extra gilt, gilt edges, $2.00.

Mr. Upton describes these cantatas very clearly. The book, like its predecessors, may be warmly commended to those who are fond of music, as containing information which can be found in no other single work. — The San Francisco Chronicle.

There is a study of the cantata in its various forms, from its early, simple, recitative or aria style down to its present elaborate construction. The selections include quite all of the cantatas that rank high in merit. It is the only handbook and guide for musicians and their friends, and is as valuable as either of the two admirable works preceding it. — The Boston Globe.

UPTON. The Standard Symphonies: Their Stories, their Music, and their Composers. A Handbook. By George P. Upton. 12mo, 321 pages, yellow edges, $1.50; extra gilt, gilt edges, $2.00.

The usefulness of this handbook cannot be doubted. Its pages are packed full of these fascinating renderings. The accounts of each composer are succinct and yet sufficient. The author has done a genuine service to the world of music lovers. The comprehension of orchestral work of the highest character is aided efficiently by this volume. The mechanical execution of the volume is in harmony with its subject. No worthier volume can be found to put into the hands of an amateur or a friend of music. — Public Opinion, Washington.

It is written in a style that cannot fail to stimulate the reader, if also a student of music, to strive to find for himself the underlying meanings of the compositions of the great composers. It contains, besides, a vast amount of information about the symphony, its evolution and structure, with sketches of the composers, and a detailed technical description of a few symphonic models. It meets a recognized want of all concert goers. — The Chautauquan.

UPTON. Handbooks on Music. By George P. Upton. Comprising: THE STANDARD OPERAS, THE STANDARD ORATORIOS, THE STANDARD CANTATAS, THE STANDARD SYMPHONIES. 12mo, flexible cloth, extra, per vol., $1.50. The four volumes in neat box, per set, $6.00; extra gilt, gilt edges, $8.00; half calf, gilt tops, $13.00; half morocco, gilt tops, $14.00; half morocco, gilt edges, $15.00.

These four "Standard" books, dealing with operas, oratorios, cantatas, and symphonies, make, if not in number, still in range of subjects, a real musical library. One in reading them becomes acquainted with the great composers, Italian, German, French, and English, and with their works, with all the best results which might be gained in the reading of many books. — The Standard, Chicago.

UPTON. Woman in Music. By George P. Upton. Third Edition, revised and enlarged. 16mo, $1.00; half morocco, gilt top, $2.75.

Mr. Upton, in a series of comparatively brief chapters, has given us a kind of interior history of the domestic and heart relations of such composers as Bach, Handel, Beethoven, Mozart, Schumann, Chopin, and Wagner, filling in the larger sketches of these masters by lightly drawn but very interesting pictures of their relations with various gifted and unselfish women, who helped on their individual development, and laid the world under obligation by materially assisting in the production of some of their great compositions. Many of the episodes of friendship and love which are recalled in this volume are not only helpful and inspiring, but idyllic in their elevation of sentiment and sometimes pathetic in their tragic outcome. — The Book-Buyer, New York.

WASHBURNE. Sketch of Edward Coles, Second Governor of Illinois; and the Slavery Struggle, 1823–24. By the Hon. E. B. Washburne. With portrait and fac-simile letters. 8vo, 253 pages, $1.50.

It must take its place among the valuable contributions to a period in American annals most important in its bearings upon the destinies of the American people. — The Standard, Chicago.
